THREE BRITISH CRUISERS ARE SUNK IN RAID BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

Attention Momentarily Diverted From Battlefields of the Continent to North Sea—While Loss is Comparatively Small to British Navy, it Comes as Shock to Englishmen—No Important Changes on Battle Fronts in Northern Part of France.

EACH SIDE GAINS A LITTLE AND LOSES A LITTLE

French Have Captured Additional Prisoners and Supply Trains According to Report From London—Russians Follow Up Successes in Galacia, Where Another Battle is About to Begin, by Capturing Important Austrian Fortress and R. R. Center.

London, Sept. 22.—The daring raid of German submarines across the North Sea which resulted today in the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy, has diverted attention momentarily from the battlefields of the continent.

This was one of the things the British navy had been led to expect, for the Germans frankly had avowed that their plan was to reduce British naval superiority by submarine raids and the sowing of mines, and they have been training their young officers for sallies of this kind.

Nevertheless, it came as a shock to Englishmen that big ships, such as those sunk, could so easily be attacked and destroyed, while the German fleet has remained in safety in its mine and fortress protected harbors.

However, the British fleet must keep the seas to insure Great Britain's food supply, and in doing so must run great risks.

The ships sunk, while obsolete, still were useful vessels, and it is little satisfaction to England to know her cruiser fleet still is double in number that of the Germans and that, as Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, has said, she will be able to build during the war three to Germany's one.

Meantime, there have been no important changes on the battle fronts in northern France. The opposing armies contine to gain a little here and lose a little there. These gains may tell in the long run, but have brought no decisive result for either side.

The French official report issued late today again lays some stress on the announcement that an advance is being made by the allies' left wing on the right bank of the river Oise, from which point both the public and the military experts look for first indications of how the battle is likely to end.

GERMANS FORCED BACK A LITTLE

Although official reports do not go beyond saying that the Germans have been forced to give ground before the French attacks, and speak of Noyon and the district around that city as the center of operations, some correspondents describe the allies' left as extending from just west of Noyon to as far north as Lecntelet, from which point, or Peronne, the new army, of which there have been so many reports but no confirmation, is supposed to be operating to threaten the German right wing.

If this is true, the German right is in a dangerous position, for it cannot extend much farther north or west of St. Quentin. Its position runs thence by way of Chauny and south of Laon to north of Rheims.

On the plateau of Craonne severe fighting has been going on for days but there is no late information as to whether the Germans or the allies hold the commanding positions here. The allies had the plateau a few days ago, but the German official report claims it has been retaken, together with the village of Betheny.

In the center between Rheims and Souain, which the French occupied early in the week, there has been most desperate fighting, the Germans taking the offensive and according to the French reports being repulsed. The Germans also have made some attacks in the Woevre district without success but they again have crossed the Lorraine frontier and have occupied Donestre, south of Blamont.

The French have captured additional prisoners and supply trains.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE FORTRESS.

The Russians have followed up their successes in Galicia where a third great battle is about to begin, if it already has not started, by capturing the important fortress of Jaroslau, on the river San, north of Przemysl, which they are surrounding. Jaroslau commands the passage of the San river and its possession will assist the Russians in their operations against Przemysl, where a strong Austro-German force is prepared to offer stubborn resistance in the hope of at least detaining the Russian armies which are needed to take the offensive against Germany.

SERVIANS REPORT A VICTORY.

The Servians report another victory over the Austrians, who thus far have suffered severely on all sides. This engagement occurred near Kroupani, on the Drina, where the Austrians attempted to invade Servia, but were driven back. This attack accounts for the Servian evacuation of Semlin, as the troops were needed to stem the Austrian offensive movement.

The Servians feel they now can proceed with the invasion of Bosnia and the troops at Vishegrad had been ordered to march on Sarajevo.

The Servians and Montenegrins are within ten miles of Sarajevo and the Austrians have made one sortie from the town, according to a Rome dispatch, but quickly turned back in the face of the opposing forces. There is a rumor, too, that Essad Pasha, former Albanian minister of war, as a result of an agreement with the Servian government, will lead an Albanian army into Herzogovina by way of Cattaro.

FRENCH OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Some Progress in Places, No Change in Others Along Battle Line.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The following official announcement was made in Paris today:

"Along the entire front, from the Oise to the Woevre, the Germans manifested yesterday (September 21) a certain activity without, however, obtaining appreciable results.

"First—On our left wing, on the right bank of the river Oise, the Germans were obliged to yield ground before the French attacks. Between the Oise and the Aisne the situation remains unchanged. The enemy has not delivered any serious attack, content-

SUMMARY OF WAR DEVELOPMENTS OF A DAY

Library of Congress

Fighting on [illegible]d has given way for the moment as a news factor to the daring raid in the North Sea by [illegible] German submarines which torpedoed and sank three British armored cruisers—the Ab[illegible]ir, the Cressy and the Hogue—and in turn lost two of their own number, under fire of [illegible] British guns.

In its d[illegible]g, as reported by the British admiralty, the attack of the little plungers surpassed any nav[illegible]maneuver of the present war. Of the aggregate normal personnel of 2,265 men carried b[illegible] the cruisers, it is estimated that only 700 were saved.

Along the battle line in France reports indicate that while the fighting is progressing, no great gains have been made by either side, and that the crucial period is still to come.

The Russians are reported to have taken the fortified town of Jaroslau, on the San river, northwest of Przemysl, from the Austrians, and a Rome despatch credits the Montenegrins and Servians with having captured from the Austrians, Sarajevo, capital of Bosnia.

In Africa, the British repulsed a German attack in their eastern territory, the Germans retreating with losses. Gen. Louis Botha, the famous Boer general and now premier of the Union of South Africa, has taken over supreme command of British operations against German Southwest Africa.

It is reported that the French again are bombarding the important Austrian seaport of Cattaro, in Dalmatia.

Lord Kitchener, the British war minister, has approved the proposition for the formation of a Welsh army corps.

Another British casualty list shows a large proportion of officers among the killed, wounded or missing.

General French has issued a further report on the British operations in France, bringing them up to September 18.

The Hamburg-American Line steamer Spreewald, armed as an auxiliary cruiser, and two German colliers, have been captured by the British cruiser Berwick, in the North Atlantic ocean.

It is reported that a vessel of 12,000 tons has been sunk by a mine in the North Sea.

MARCONI COMPANY WILL GO TO COURT

To Test Right and Power of Federal Government.

TELEGRAM TO DANIELS

Asks for Time to File Suit to Determine Whether United States Can Close Wireless Station. Details.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., of America announced here tonight it was preparing papers for a suit in the Federal courts to determine whether the United States government has the right and power to close its plants for not observing the naval neutrality regulations.

Edward J. Nally, vice president and general manager, made the announcement in a statement setting forth the present position of the company in regard to its controversy with the Navy Department.

Mr. Nally said the following telegram was sent to Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, after the company had been informed today that its station at Siasconset, Mass., would be closed unless the company gave assurance it would observe the rules.

President Nally's Telegram.

"We have been unable to procure a copy of the attorney general's opinion regarding the use of the wireless, owing to unwillingness of the department to give it out. In view of the very important legal questions involved and public and private injury that would be caused by forcible action, we suggest that such action be withheld long enough for us to submit question to decision of a Federal court in a suit, papers for which are now being prepared."

"We desire," the statement reads, "to correct any impression that the public may have that the Marconi Company is wilfully trying to evade the neutrality laws of the United States. We are doing nothing of the kind. We are endeavoring to the utmost of our ability to conform to every requirement of a neutral citizen of this country. We take the position that the reception and transmission of the messages from our stations are not forbidden by any law or treaty.

"If it is unneutral for the Marconi Company to receive a message from a British war vessel at sea, it is quite as unneutral for a telegraph or cable company to receive or send messages to Great Britain, Canada or Russia. Yet it is undisputable that citizens of this country have a right to deal with the belligerent nations,to sell them munitions of war, food stupplies and any other commercial material. As stated by a Federal court, it is not the purpose of neutrality laws in any manner

THREE OF BRITISH WARSHIPS GO DOWN

Torpedoed in the North Sea by Submarines.

GERMANS LOSE TWO

The Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy Sunk—Dutch Steamer Titon Picks Up 114 Survivors—Dead Bodies Recovered.

London, Sept. 22.—The British warships Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy have been sunk in the North Sea by submarines, according to an announcement given out by the official bureau this afternoon.

Continuing the announcement says that a considerable number of the crews of those vessels were saved by H. M. S. Lowestoft and by a division of torpedo boat destroyers. Trawlers and their boats also took part in the work of rescue.

The Aboukir was torpedoed first. The Hogue and the Cressy drew in close to her and were standing by to save her crew when they also were torpedoed.

The Cressy, captain Robert W. Johnson; the Aboukir, Captain John E. Drummond and the Hogue captain Wilmot S. Nicholson were sister ships. They were armored cruisers of a comparatively obsolete type and were built fourteen years ago.

The list of casualties among their crews will be published as soon as they are known.

The Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue each had a displacement of 12,000 tons. Each was 440 feet long and 69.5 feet wide, drew 26 feet of water and had a complement of 755 men including officers.

Their armaments consisted of two 9.2 inch guns, twelve 6-inch guns, twelve 12 pounders and five 5 pounders each. The Aboukir and the Cressy were built at Govan and Hogue at Barrow.

Twenty British Picked Up.

London, Sept. 22.—A dispatch received here from the Hook of Holland says the Dutch steamer Titon has arrived there bringing twenty British wounded and some dead, picked up in the North sea after the sinking of tht British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy.

The Titon reported that the disaster occurred at 7:30 o'closck this morning. The Titon picked up 114 surviyors, mose of whom were transferred to British torpedo boats.

THINKS FARMERS UNDULY ALARMED

Secretary McAdoo Talks to North Carolinians.

DELEGATION CALLS

Craig, Bickett and Cotton Growers Confer With Secretary, Who is Optimistic—Governor Sounds Optimistic Note.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—The delegation appointed yesterday to call upon Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to ascertain what further help could be expected from the Federal Government for the cotton people were cordially received by the Secretary this morning. The Secretary told the North Carolinians that the government was willing to do all it possiby could to help the situation, but that he believed the farmers were unduly alarmed. He took the bright side of the situation, but made it plain that the government was not going to issue currency direct to the farmers as has been proposed by some of those representing, or rather claiming to represent, the farming interests.

Craig Issues Statement.

After the meeting Governor Craig issued the following statement:

"I do not think the Henry bill will pass and I do not think it ought to pass. It provides, among other things, that the Federal government shall issue $500,000,000 of paper money for the purpose of buying cotton at 10 cents per pound. I have not seen any members of Congress who are in favor of it.

"The proposition that Mr. Bickett submitted to the meeting at Raleigh has not been discussed.

"All of these propositions holding out the hope that the Federal government will issue millions of dollars of currency directly on cotton, or on state bonds with which to buy cotton, might as well be promptly abandoned. There is just as much hope of getting the bag of gold at the foot of the rainbow.

Conditions Rapidly Improving.

"The situation is distressing indeed for the Southern farmer. The cotton crop was produced with the confident expectation that the price would be 12 or 13 cents per pound. When the price suddenly dropped to seven cents per pound the financial equilibrium was disturbed and the psychological equilibrium still more disturbed. The cause was sufficient to produce the shock. Conditions now are by no means hopeless. They are rapidly improving. In the first place, the farmers are taking care of themselves, and they might as well understand that their grim determination to take care of themselves is their safest reliance.

VIRGINIA VOTES DRY BY 32,000 MAJORITY

LIMIT DEBATE ON WAR REVENUE BILL

Only Four Hours Will be Allowed in the House.

REPUBLICANS PROTEST

Will Attack Bill on Ground That Democratic Extravagance is Only Ground for Its Necessity. Committee Report.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Early disposition in the House of the war revenue bill to raise approximately $105,000,000 was forecast today when Majority Leader Underwood announced that it would be brought up Thursday under a rule limiting debate to four hours.

Republican members in the brief time to be allotted them will attack the measure along lines suggested today in a minority report filed by Representative Payne, of New York, protesting that there was "no occasion for panic, hasty action or headlong action to heap heavier burdens upon the people." The Democrats were charged with extravagance. Failure of the new tariff to meet expectations of its framers also was claimed.

The majority report of the Ways and Means committee declared that the new tariff laws and other sources of revenue would have yielded sufficient government revenue had it not been for the European war.

Prospects for early passage of the bill when it reached the Senate seemed more favorable tonight in view of the capitulation of the Democrats in the rivers and harbors fight. Republican senators propose, however, to debate it thoroughly.

Why It is Necessary.

"The great nations of Europe," the majority report says, "have gone to a paper basis and gold has gone to a premium. International exchange has been interrupted and must be established on a new basis. The usual course of exports abroad we expected to return gold to this country within the next four months has been interrupted and interfered with, bringing about a more or less demoralized condition of business in our country and has placed a tremendous strain on our banking facilities. It is, therefore, deemed unwise at this time to withdraw government funds from the banks because it would necessitate the banks reducing their credits, embarrass the crop movement, reduce the treasury balance to the minimum and probably bring disastrous conditions to our people.

"It therefore seems wisdom for Congress to levy a tax at this time to take care of the deficit in our customs revenue brought about by conditions over which our government and our people have no control."

Not Traceable to Tariff Law.

The report cited treasury figures in an argument that the necessity for the legislation cannot be traced to the tariff law. It is estimated that the special taxes on bankers, brokers, pawn brokers, commercial brokers, customs house brokers, proprietors of theatres, museums and concert halls in cities of more than 15,000 population, proprietors of circuses and other public exhibitions and shows, bowling alleys, and billiard rooms would produce an aggregate of $10,000,000, during the first 12 months the law is in effect.

Motion picture shows, which are scattered in almost every hamlet in the country, would be taxed $100 under the head of "proprietors of theatres," etc., in cities of 15,000, according to members of the committee today.

Statewide Prohibition Forces Win Sweeping Victory at Polls.

FOUR CITIES GO WET

Some Towns Sprung Surprises on Local Optionists.

Figures Will be Increased Largely in Favor of Drys When Returns Are All In—Returns Up to Last Midnight.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—The statewide prohibition forces won a sweeping victory at the polls in Virginia today, returns at midnight showing that they had won by a majority of 32,825. This figure will be increased largely in favor of the drys when further returns are received from counties which tonight are inaccessible.

With complete returns from all the cities and 44 of the 100 counties and with scattering returns from other counties, the total vote is 121,763. It is estimated that the final total vote will reach 150,000.

Of this vote the drys received 77,453 as against 44,618 for the local optionists. The cities which were expected to roll up a majority for the local optionists, sprung a surprise by giving 1,315 for the drys.

Only four cities—Norfolk, Williamsburg, Alexandria and Richmond—returned majorities for the wets shrdlu turned majorities for the wets. The total votes cast in these cities was 40,997 of which the drys got 20,146.

Early Night Report.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—Early returns from Virginia's election today on State-wide prohibition indicate that the prohibitionists have carried the state by a heavy majority. If the present ratio of returns is maintained the dry majority will be more than 20,000.

Richmond complete gives 4,282 for prohibition and 6,011 against; Danville gives 948 for and 745 against; Fredericksburg 315 for and 306 against; Charlottesville 349 for, 196 against; Portsmouth 1,294 for, 1,231 against; Hampton 251 for, 181 against; Bristol 424 for, 282 against; Alexandria 358 for, 1,121 against.

Ladies Take Part.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 22.—Tolling of the church bells, prayer meetings and serving of lunches at the polls by the ladies were the features of the statewide prohibition election here today.

AMERICANS GET MORE WAR NEWS THAN EUROPE.

We Get Messages from Everywhere and Can Keep Informed.

Bordeaux, Sept. 22.—"Americans are infinitely better informed about the war than Europeans, even the neutrals," the Temps New York correspondent says. "They have received news from everywhere—from belligerent and neutral countries and also censored and uncensored dispatches which rectify and clarify each other."

Rotterdam, via London, Sept. 22.—The steamer Noorda mtook on bcard about 1,100 American passengers tonight and will sail early tomorrow for New York.

NOT A MOMENT'S RESPITE GIVEN THE GERMAN FORCES

Batteries of Allied Armies Never Entirely Cease Firing—By Relentless Pressure of Numbers, Fire and Bayonets, Entrenched Germans Are Slowly Driven Back

At the Battle Front, Sept. 22, Via Paris—Not a moment's respite was given last night to the German forces entrenched along the 90-mile front running along the rivers Aisne and Oise and extending into the Woevre district. The batteries of the allied forces never entirely ceased firing all night.

The Germans occupying the trenches kept constantly on the alert, but until 2 A. M. today no aggressive move was started from the allies' lines facing them. Then all the allied batteries seemed to open fire together. At the western end of the line the allied infantry gathered in the trenches and simultaneously at various points crept out and advanced cautiously in wide open lines towards the German positions.

The French and British on several occasions succeeded in surprising and driving back the occupants of the German trenches, but only after the most stubborn fighting and heavy losses to both sides. In every instance the allied troops retained the ground captured and immediately dug themselves in.

Further east the Germans developed a strong attack but were beaten back with the bayonet only to return again and again, to be finally driven off to their original positions. The allied commanders were able to give the troops who had been occupying the advance firing line a welcome rest, pushing to the front fresh brigades of batteries hitherto held in reserve and which were only too anxious to come into actual contact.

Military experts estimate that nearly two million or more men are at the scene where the battle has been in progress ten days.

TELLS GRAPHIC STORY OF MUELHAUSEN FIGHT

Helped Bury 100 to 150 Germans in One Grave.

New York Lady Arrives From War Zone and Gives Account of Horrible Sights Witnessed in Europe.

New York, Sept. 22.—Mrs. L. E. Thorre, of New York, who helped bury in a single grave from 100 to 150 Germans killed in battle in Muelhausen, told a graphic story tonight of the series of encounters between French and German soldiers in and around the Alsatian city early in August. Mrs. Thorre is a widow of a Frenchman and has a brother-in-law in the German landstrum. Mrs. Thorre was one of 1,013 passengers who arrived on two steamships which reached here tonight.

A French force occupied Muelhausen August 1st, Mrs. Thorre said tonight, and two days later 20,000 Germans entered the town. After a two-day battle the French were driven out. The Germans, becoming confused in the side streets, fired on one another, Mrs. Thorre said, many being killed and wounded.

"The Germans then declared the inhabitants had concealed French soldiers and 300 male non-combatants were removed from residences and marched down the streets. Presently, Mrs. Thorre said, she heard shots fired and later was informed the citizens had been shot by the Germans.

The Germans, Mrs. Thorre continued, burned the houses. On August 13, the French returned and a battle ensued in which she estimated 3,000 Germans were killed. She and other women aided the men in burying the dead. Citizens who lost their lives were given graves in the yards of their homes.

Squares of Dead Germans.

Henry De Sibour, an American, who has been living in London and was marooned at Belfort when the war broke out, was among the 363 passengers of the Red Star liner Zeeland, which arrived today. He reached Paris after passing through the country where much of the early fighting occurred. On one field, he said, he saw squares of dead German soldiers, some of whom were standing upright leaning against each other. Officers told him, he said, that the machine guns were responsible for this wholesale killing.

Russian Troops Crossed England.

Mrs. De Sibour declared a near relative who is an officer of an English railroad, had told her his line had transported 250,000 Russian troops across England and that the steamship Aquitania was used to transport the troops to a remote point of the coast of France.

IMPROVEMENTS IN STORE.

Workmen Busy Remodeling New Shrier Building on Front Street.

Work on extensive improvements on the building at No. 32 North Front street, formerly occupied by Mr. R. C. DeRosset, recently purchased by Mr. I. Shrier, the well known clothing merchant, of this city, has been started and will be pushed to rapid completion. Mr. Shrier said yesterday that he expected to occupy the building about December 1st.

The lease on his present building at the northeast corner of Front and Princess streets will not expire until October 1st, 1915, when it is to be occupied by the United Cigar Stores. Mr. Shrier said that both stores might be occupied by him until that time.

The front of the store at No. 32 North Front street will be fitted up with large plate glass front which will be among the most attractive in the city. They will be on marble bases and will have trimmings of terra cotta with window facings of copper. The interior will be remodeled throughout.

Mr. Robert Tucker is the contractor and Mr. B. H. Stephens the architect.

GOOD COTTON WEATHER.

Was the Rule the Past Week, According to Weather Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Good cotton weather was the rule during the past week, the weather bureau reported today. Opening and picking progressed satisfactorily except over portions of the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida, "where wet weather delayed picking and caused some damage to the open bolls."

"In the western part of the cotton region," the report continues, "the weather was most favorable and picking progressed rapidly. A few reports of damage by insects continued from widely scattered localities."

Evangelistic Services at Seagate.

The series of evangelistic services at Seagate Baptist church of which Rev. O. N. Marshall is pastor, continue to grow in interest and are being attended by large congregations. The services are being conducted by Rev. C. N. Brooks. He preached a most impressive and instructive sermon last night. Services are held in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

KELFORD COCA-COLA CO.

Wilmington Enterprise Chartered—Insurance Companies May Buy Cotton.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—A charter is issued for the Kelford Coca-Cola Bottling Co., of Wilmington, capital $5,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by G. H. Hutaff, W. J. Hutaff and Tabitha Hutaff for general bottling plant.

Another charter is to the Wesleyan Methodist churches of America, Gastonia, chartered without capital stock for holding title to negro churches, parsonages and property for rescue work in this and other states, the work to be carried on through the Methodist conferences.

State Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young made the statement today that while the general insurance laws will not permit insurance companies that have the sanction of the law in their business methods to actually buy cotton in the impending movement for buying cotton to keep clear of "distress" cotton on the general market, still he holds that they can loan money on cotton and have the cotton placed as security for the loans.

WILSON RETURNS FROM TRIP TO PRINCETON, N. J.

Where He Went to Vote in the Democratic Primaries.

Today He Will Receive Delegation of Colorado Coal Operators Who Will Tell Their Side of the Controversy.

Washington, Sept. 22.—President Wilson returned tonight from his trip to Princeton, N. J., to vote in the Democratic primaries.

The President tomorrow will receive a delegation of Colorado coal operators who will tell him their opinion of the tentative basis for the settlement of the strike already accepted by the miners. The operators were reported tonight to be ready to accept the main provisions of the plan.

President Votes at Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 22.—President Wilson paid a flying visit to his former home here today to vote in the Democratic primaries.

He arrived shortly after noon and was met by a small group of students and members of the Princeton faculty. Accompanied by Dr. C. T. Grayson and Prof. Stockton, the President went directly to the polling booth in a fire house.

A Republican was ready to vote and the President waited for his turn, refusing to allow the other voter to step aside. Mr. Wilson was handed a Democratic ballot and stepping into the enclosed booth marked it for the nomination of Representative Allen Walsh. He also voted for three members of the general assembly and for sheriff.

to check or interfere with the commercial activity of citizens of the United States or others residing in the United States and interested in commercial matters.

"In our controversy with the Navy Department, that department has asserted the right of the Executive Department to make new laws of neutrality, to affix new penalties and to carry them out by military force with the same right that a military court martial possesses.

"If it should be determined in the courts that the action of the Secretary of the Navy is justified by the law of the land, we will submit willingly. If, on the other hand, it be deemed that the threatened action is an invasion of our rights, we shall expect such relief and protection as the courts can give."

DANIELS WILL STAND PAT.

No Court to Interfere With Enforcement of Neutrality—Ready to Act.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels made it clear tonight that he does not propose to allow court litigation to interfere with the enforcement of neutrality at all wireless stations.

Robert Ford, representative of the Marconi Company, called on Mr. Daniels and was shown a copy of Attorney General Gregory's opinion setting forth that the President has absolute right to censor messages or close stations whenever he deemed it necessary to preserve the country's neutrality.

Mr. Daniels had before him a telegram from the Marconi Company asking that action in alleged violation by the Siasconsett station in receiving a message from the British cruiser Suffolk be postponed until the government's right could be determined in a suit being prepared for the Federal courts.

Secretary Daniels explained that the failure of the Navy Department to enforce strict neutrality in the matter of wireless stations might have serious results.

The Marconi Company has been given until tomorrow to comply with neutrality regulations.

Rumors that the Navy Department intended taking over the wireless station at Sayville, L. I., pending the repair of the Tuckerton station, brought Paul C. Schnitzler and H. O. Boehme, representing the Atlantic Communication Co., on a hasty visit to Washington today. After a conference with the State and Navy department officials they said they had been informed that no such move was contemplated.

APPEAL TO THE CHURCHES

Washington, Sept. 22.—This appeal to the churches of the United States was issued tonight by the executive commitee of the American Red Cross.

"Our President by proclamation has designated Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer for peace. It has been suggested in many quarters that on this Sunday a collection by taken up in every church to relieve suffering in the war ravaged countries of Europe. The Red Cross, which is charged with the special duty of aiding the sick and wounded in time of war, respectfully urges that opportunity be given in each church to every person who so desires to make a contribution to be given to the American Red Cross. Every contributor who desires to designate any particular fund or country to which his or her fund shall be applied may do so, and such request will be respected."

DEADLY FOR GERMANS.

Soldiers Sacrificed by Officers Without Apparent Reason.

Paris, Sept. 22.—12:50 A. M.—Wounded soldiers from the region of Craonne described the battles there Sunday and Monday as having been deadly for the Germans who, they say, were sacrificed without apparent reason by their officers.

Though pushed back with great slaughter, some of the wounded say, the Germans returned again and again only to be moved down by the French. One entire regiment, it was declared, was wiped out and when the French toop possession of the field they found 1,000 wounded left by the Germans. Trenches that had been carefully prepared for resistance of the allies advance were filled with dead.

A superior officer among the wounded estimated the German losses in this engagement alone at 70,000.

SENATE PASSES RIVER AND HARBOR MEASURE

Provides $20,000,000 for Existing Projects.

Prompt Action Ends Long Fight—Simmons Speaks—Another Fight in House is Expected—Substitute Bill.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Prompt passage by the Senate today of a substitute measure providing $20,000,000, to be expended by the army engineers on existing projects, finally ended the long filibuster against the river and harbor appropriation bill which originly carried $53,000,000. The bill now goes to the House, where it is expetced to precipitate another vigorous fight.

When the Commerce committee, under the Senate's instructions, brought in the substitute today no show of opposition was offered and the measure passed without a record vote.

Senator Simmons, who led the long fight against the filibuster, made a lengthly seech just before the vote. He defended the original measure and discussed the theory of waterway improvement and the policy heretofore pursued.

A tribute to Senator Burton and the other opponetns of the bill, who conducted the successful filibuster, was paid by Senator Stone, of Missouri, who declared, however, that despite the defeat of the bill the sentiment of the country was overwhelmingly in favor of liberal waterway improvement.

"On our right wing in Lorraine the enemy has again passed the frontier, using in this operation a number of small columns. Donestre, to the south of Blamont, has been reoccupied by the enemy.

"During the days of September 20 and September 21 we captured twenty automobiles used in moving provisions, together with all the men attached to them. We also captured on these days numerous prisoners belonging principally to the Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Fifteenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth German Corps, to the Bavarian Landwehr, and to the Reserve Corps.

"Concerning the Rusians in Galicia: The rear guards of the Austrian armies have been pursued by the Russians and have suffered considerable losses. Russian troops have come in contact with the Austrian garrison near Przemysl. The heavy Russian artillery is bombarding the fortifications of Jaroslau."

AUSTRIANS SUFFER DISASTER.

Result of Several Days' Battle Near Krupani—Servian Report.

Nish, Servia, Sept. 22.—Via London—The battle which has been in progress for several days near Krupani, on the Drina river, has, according to official announcement today, ended in complete disaster for the Austrian army.

The announcement declared 160,000 Austrians were engaged, while the Servian forces included various bodies of men who have been gathered along the Drina, reinforced by troops hastily recalled from Semlin and Slavonia. The fighting was very sanguinary.

The Austrian attempt on Shabats was repulsed with heavy loss.

GERMANS CLAIM PROGRESS.

Berlin Report on the Situation in Northern France, Sept. 21.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The German embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"Headquarters reports September 21 that the attack against the French-English army makes progress. Rheims lies in the French battle line, and we regret being forced to answer their fire. The city suffers, but orders have been given to spare the cathedral.

"In Middle Alsace the French attacks have been repulsed. The subscription to the German war loan up to the present time reaches 4,200,000,000 marks."

CAPITAL OF BOSNIA TAKEN.

Servian and Montenegrins Capture City From Austrians.

London, Sept. 22.—Midnight—The Rome correspondent of the Star says the Servian and Montenegrin troops have occupied Sarajevo, which was abandoned by the Austrians after an overwhelming defeat.

Sarajevo is the capital of Bosnia. It is a fortified town of some 27,000 inhabitants. It manufactures copper, brass and iron ware and cotton goods and tobacco. It was here that Archduke Francis Ferdinan, heir apparetn to the Autsrian throne, and his wife were assissinated shortly before Austria declared war on Servia.

ITALIANS TO FIGHT GERMANS.

Five Thousand Volunteers Leave Lyons for Unannounced Destination.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 22.—A dispatch received here from Lyons, France, says that 5,000 Italian volunteers under Gen. Giuseppe Garibaldi, son of Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi, have received their red shirt uniforms and are leaving for an unannounced destination to attack the Germans.

Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi has received a message from his son saying he had learned that the Canadian Italians had intended to raise a regiment to aid the allies and declaring he would be delighted to incorporate this body into his own red shirts.

ENGLISH WARSHIPS SWORM.

More Than 200 in Battle Line Near Helgoland Now.

New York, Sept. 22.—There are more than two hundred English warships in battle line off the German base, Helgoland, so close together that at times they appear to touch each other, according to Capt. Skelley, of the British oil tank steamer San Lorenzo, which reached New York today from London. For six weeks the San Lorenzo was with this British fleet, her officers said, as a supply ship. From a distance she saw the engagement with the German cruisers behind Helgoland.

Outside the Ambrose channel lightship at the enrance to New York harbor, Capt. Sh Skelly said, there are two British cruisers and a Cunard line steamer, converted into an auxiliary cruiser.

WAR BULLETINS

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 22—An aeroplane of unknown nationality dropped a bomb in Maestricht this morning, near the Brussels gate, according to a dispatch received here. No lives were lost. The air craft disappeared toward the south.

Nish, Sept. 22.—Prince George of Servia has again been wounded, this time while leading a charge of a Servian battalion. A rifle bullet penetrated his body. His physicians believe the wound is not dangerous. Prince George was wounded at Belgrade early in August by a fragment of a shell.

The Hague, via London, Sept. 22.—A special dispatch to the Avondpost from Berlin says that so far no proof has been forthcoming of the accusations against the Russian General Martos, charged with killing non-combatants in East Prussian towns and villages occupied by his troops. His trial by court martial is proceeding.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 22.—Cardinal Lucon, archbishop of Rheims, has sent a message from Paris to the Pope saying he is donig all in his power to reach Rheims, where the great cathedral has been destroyed by German shell fire. He has been unable to do so, however, owing to the occupation of the town by the French forces. The Pope has asked for a report regarding the destruction of the famous edifice.

London, Sept. 22.—Telegraphing from Amsterdam, the correspondent of the Central News says it is reported there that Gen. Steinmetz, of the German artillery, was killed in France September 15. Continuing the correspondent says that reports from Liege declare the Germans have brought the fortresses there into such condition that they may again be used for defense.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 22.—In spite of denials by the Austrian government, newspapers here publish detailed descriptions purporting to show that Austrian armaments are being placed on the Italian frontier and declaring preparations are being made by Austria to invade Italy.

London, Sept. 23.—Gen. Louis Botha, premier and ministe of the Union of South Africa, will take supreme command of British operations against German southwest Africa.

Nairobi, British East Africa, via London, Sept 22.—A German force attacked a fort twenty miles from the border in the Voi district September 19 and after an hour's sharp fighting retired, leaving eight dead.

KAISER THANKS RAILWAYS.

From Highest Official to Lowest Laborer for War Speed.

(New York Times.)

From the "Great Headquarters of the German army," the whereabouts of which is carefully concealed, the Kaiser recently sent the following order to his Cabinet, thanking the German railway employes for their prompt work in connection with the mobilization:

"The German transportation authorities have carried out the powerful movement of transporting troops with unexampled safety and speed. Very thankfully I think of the men who, since 1870 and 1871, have worked out this original system which has now for the first time proved its ability in brilliant fashion.

"I wish to express my imperial thanks for the true self-sacrifice and devotion to duty of all those who, following my call, have helped in this work of throwing the German people embattled along its railway lines against the foe—especially the commanders of the various lines and the railway officials from the chief official to the lowest laborer.

"The service already rendered gives me the safe assurance that the German railway authorities will prove responsive to the utmost demands that may be made upon them in the further course of the great conflict for the future of the German people.

"WILLIAM I. R."

British ships, according to survivors from the cruisers who arrived here tonight.

FOURTH BRITISH CRUISER SUNK?

The "Belgian King" Goes Down With 22 Persons—Cause Not Known.

Trebizond, Asia Minor, Sept. 22, via London—Twenty-two persons lost their lives by drowning as a result of the sinking of the British steamer Belgian King near Cape Kurell, yesterday.

The Belgian King carried passengers and crew to the number of 120. Ninety-eight of them were saved by a Russian steamer.

It is surmised this accident was due to a mine, but the real cause has not been revealed.

FIFTH VESSEL SUNK?

One of 12,000 Tons Reported Destroyed in North Sea.

Lowestoft, Eng., via London, Sept. 22.—It is reported that a vessel of 12,000 tons has been sunk by a mine in the North Sea. Another large vessel is standing by. No official confirmation of the report can be obtained.

Nearly 300 Survivors Rescued.

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 22.—The steamer Flores arrived at Ymuiden tonight with 287 survivors from the British cruisers sunk by German submarines. One dead and a few wounded also were aboard.

SEVEN HUNDRED SAVED.

Thirty Uninjured Officers Arrive at Harwick, England.

Harwich, Eng., via London, Sept. 23.—It is computed here that 700 men from the British cruisers Abouker, Cressy and Hogue were saved.

Thirty uninjured officers, survivors of the sunken warships, arrived here tonight. Eighty other survivors are at Parkestomquay, three miles west of Harwich.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE TAKEN

Captured by British Cruiser Berwyck in North Atlantic.

London, Sept. 22.—The Hamburg-American Line steamer Spreewald has been captured by the British cruiser Berwyck in the North Atlantic ocean, according to an announcement tonight by the admiralty.

It was stated here tonight that two colliers had been captured.

The Spreewald was fitted out as an armed cruiser. The two colliers carried 2,600 tons of coal and 180 tons of provisions for the German cruisers in Atlantic waters. The Berwick is commanded by Capt. Lewis C. Baker.

The total number of German vessels which, according to latest reports have been captured by British vessels at sea or by British port authorities is 92. Ninety-five German vessels were detained in British ports at the outbreak of the war.

Seventy British vessels were held in German ports at the commencement of hostilities and since then 12 British sea-going vessels out of the upward of 4,000 carrying on over-sea trade have been captured and sunk at sea.

The Spreewald is a steamer of 2,214 tons. She was last reported as having sailed from Antwerp July 12, for the West Indies and to have arrived at St. Thomas, D. W. I., August 4th.

MANY BRITISH OFFICERS

Among Those Killed, Wounded and Missing—Casualty List.

London, Sept. 22.—The officers press bureau tonight issued a casualty list under date of September 17, which shows 28 officers killed, 46 wounded and 14 missing. Three officers previously reported as missing have returned to their commands. Of other ranks 150 wounded and 202 missing are reported.

The list contains the names of no prominent men, but shows that the Ninth Lancers, the Dorsetshire regiment, the Eighteenth Hussars and the Royal Engineers have been in the thick of the fighting, for the list of men wounded and missing is made up alomst entirely of members of those regiments.

Lieut. C. G. Bayley and Second-lieut. V. Watafall, of the Royal Flying Corps, are unojcially reported dead.

BUBONIC PLAGUE AGAIN.

Two New Cases Are Discovered in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Two new cases of bubonic plague were discovered here today. One of the victims, John J. Vath, was found dead and the other, Clarice Alexander, a negress 40 years old, was taken to the isolation hospital. For ten days there had been no cases here.

DESGRIPTIVE ACCOUNT OF BRITISH ARMY OPERATIONS

Statement Issued From Field Marshal Sir John French's Headquarters Gives Story of Activities of English Forces From September 14 to September 18.

London, Sept. 22.—The following descriptive account from Field Marshall Sir John French's headquarters of the British army's operations up to September 18 was issued tonight.

"General Headquarters, September 18th, 1914.

"At the date of the last narrative, September 14th, the Germans were making a determined resistance along at first it was thought might possi shr the rive Aise. Opposition, which at first it was thought might possibly be of a rear guard nature, not entiling material delay to our progress, has developed and has proved to be more serious than was anticipated.

"The action now being fought by the Germans along their line may, it is true, have been undertaken to gain time for some strategic operation and may not be their main stand. But if this is so, the fighting is naturally on a scale which makes it undistinguishable in its progress from what is known as a 'pitched battle' though the enemy certainly showed signs of considerable disorganization during the earlier days of their retirement phase.

"Whether originally it was intended by them to defend the position they took up as strenuously as they have done or whether the delay gained for them during the twelfth and thirteenth by their artillery has enabled them to develop their resistance and force their line to an extent not originally known, connot yet be said.

"So far as we are concerned the action still being contested is the battle of the Aisne. The foe we are fighting is just across that river along the whole of our front to the east and west. The struggle is not confined to the valley of that river, although it will probaby bear its name.

"The progress of our operations and the French armies nearest us for the fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth will now be described.

"On Monday, the fourteenth, those of our troops which on the previous day had crossed the Aisne, after driving in the German rear guards on that evening found portions of the enemy's forces in defensive positions on the right bank and could do little more than secure a footing north of the river. This however, they maintained in suite of two counterattacks.

"During Monday evening reinforcements from our troops were passed to the north. Close cooperation was maintained with the French forces and the general progress was good, although the opposition was vigorous and the state of the roads, made movements slow.

"One division alone failed to secure the ground expected.

"The first army corps, after repulsing repeated attacks, captured 600 prisoners and 12 guns. The cavalry also took a number of prisoners. Many Germans taken belong to the reserve and Landwehr formations.

"There was a heavy rain throughout the night of September 14-15, and during the 15th the situation of the British forces underwent no essential change. But it became more and more evident the enemy's defensive preparations wre more extensive than at first apparnt.

"To counterbalance these we took measures to economize our troops and to secure protection from the hostile artillery fire, which was fierce, and our men continued to improve their own enterenchments. The Germans bombarded our lines nearly all day, using heavy guns brought, no doubt, from before Maubeuge, as well as those with the corps.

"All their counter attacks though failed and in some places they were repeated six times.

"An attempt of our line to advance slightly was unsuccessful but led to the withdrawal of part of the enemy's infantry and artillery.

"Further counter attacks made during the night were beaten off. Rain came on towards evening and continued intermittently until 9 A. M., on the 16th, to some extent hampering the motor transport service.

"On Wednesday, the 16th, there was little change in the situation oppisite the British, the enemy's bombardment continued through the morning and evening. Our artillery fire drove the defenders off one of the Salients of their position but they returned in the evening. Forty prisoners were taken by the Third Division.

"On Thursday the 17th, the situation remained essentially unchanged. The German heavy artillery fire was more active. The infantry attacks made by the enemy were mostly on our extreme right and were repulsed with heavy loss.

"To convey some idea of the nature of the fighting it may be said that along the greater part of our front the Germans have been drven back from the forward slopes on the north o fthe river. Their infantry are holding strong strenches along the edges of the numerous woods which crown the slopes. These trenches are elaborately constructed and cleverly concealed."

THINK FARMERS UNDULY ALARMED

He is holding his cotton and he intends to hold it until the price improves. There is mighty little cotton being offered for sale in the South, and next to none in North Carolina.

"Cotton is the best of all personal property. It can be easily handled and easily taken care of. It is one of the great staple necessities of all civilized nations. The demand is coming and the price is going to increase.

"Conditions are already getting better. For a month there was no cotton exported at all. Now the vessels are beginning to carry cotton across the Atlantic. Among the foreign nations there is just as much necessity for cotton as there ever was. The channels of trade have been stopped up. They are now opening and the current is beginning to flow. Already cotton has substantially advanced. If the Federal government will promptly provide ships with which to carry products of the United States to Europe, the situation will greatly improve.

Believes in McAdoo.

"Secretary McAdoo stated to a committee representing North Carolina people that the regional banks would be in operation by the 15th of October. This will greatly improve the situation.

"I want to say that I believe that Secretary McAdoo is in full sympathy with the distressed South; that he is ready to exercise every power of his great office to help in this emergency, and he has helped. We should not cease to be grateful that in this time when calamity was impending the Federal government was in charge of men who are in sympathy with the great masses—with the producers—and not with the speculators and financiers. It was not always so.

"Our delegation in Congress are ready and anxious to do whatever can be done toward relieving the situation. They are able, conservative men, and most earnest in their desire to serve the people. We have turned our eyes not in vain tot Washington from which has come help, but we must remember that 'God helps those who help themselves'. The tide is now turning in our favor. The causes which have demoralized the people are now beginning to pass away."

The Governor left for Raleigh tonight and Attorney General Bickett will leave tomorrow. Both were pleased with the meeting held here, and hope that it will result in the situation being cleared up.

The following visitors are here: J. W. Purvis, R. A. Brand and W. H. Colby, Jr., of Wilmington; M. T. Dickinson, of Goldsboro; Mrs. Joel Whitaker, of Raleigh; R. R. Rawls and son, of Asheville, and Chas. G. Rose, and A. W. Peace, of Fayetteville.

Conditions Not So Bac.

Mr. Peace, a banker, says the cotton situation is not half as bad as people say it is. He says cotton is bringing 9 1-2 cents a pound in Fayetteville, and that if the farmers will get together and help themselves the situation will soon be brought up to normal. Mr. Peace thinks nine and a half cents for cotton with this year's bumper crop is a pretty good price, certainly in view of the European war.

"THE ACID TEST."

After the election to be held on October 7th, it is to be hoped that no intelligent person residing in Wilmington will have cause to say: "I did not know it was loaded." The man who allows prejudice to dominate is as dangerous to himself and to the community as the one who carelessly handles fire arms without taking the trouble to investigate. It is the purpose of these articles to place certain important facts before persons who are open to conviction, who want to be fair, and who can recognize their own best interests.

It would be a mistake to suppose that the Tide Water Power Company fears the granting of a franchise from the City of Wilmington to parties who hope to sell it to unknown people. Because of the almost impossible conditions for promoting new enterprises which must prevail for a number of years, it is likely to prove of little importance to the Company, even though the granting of such a franchise would take away from under the Company the foundations on which it has been for years building its structure, would throw open the gates of political speculation, and would result in the unsettlement of the value of its securities in the Northern markets.

But it is of vital importance to the Tide Water Power Company that it should know just what it stands for in the minds of the community. For 12 years the Company has endeavored to shape its public policy so that it would be entitled to protection at the hands of the citizens of Wilmington. It has now come to the time when we must receive the verdict at the polls. The Company asks no favors; but as questions are to be decided which must seriously influence the progress of the city, we do ask that every person who is entitled to register shall do so, and make it a point to record his opinion on the issues involved by voting. From our point of view we can not anticipate an adverse decision. It is our belief that the progressive policies of the Tide Water Power Company when submitted to a vote of the people will stand the "acid test."

TRINITY BASEBALL TEAM TO MAKE LONG TRIP

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., Sept. 22.—Manager T. B. Downey announces that arrangements are under foot for a long southern trip for the Trinity baseball team this year, visiting and playing the leading colleges of Georgia, Southe Carolina and Florida. The exact date of these games has not yet been decided, but it is expected that satisfactory dates can be arranged. revious to this trip, as usual, the team will make an extended tour of the northern states, contesting with the northern colleges. Besides these two excursions, games are being scheduled daily with the institutions of our own state, and a few probably with some of our state league teams. Further announcements, and a schedule of the exact date of these games will be given out as early as possible.

PENDER COUNTY NINE TO CHALLENGE CITY CHAMPIONS

Intend to Challenge Winner of Series With Tigers and Giants.

That the winners of the baseball championship of the city of Wilmington will not be alowed to wear their laruels lightly seems evident from advices from Burgaw contained in a letter to the Star yesterday, stating that the Pender County Baseball Team, of Burgaw, had decided to throw down the gauntlet to the winner of the series which start next Saturday between the Giants and Tigers to determine the city championship.

The Pender management will play either a single game, or a series of three games, eithr on the Wilmington or Burgaw diamonds or both.

The Pender boys have made things interesting for every team they have played during the past season, having a record of 14 won games out of 17 played, and have not suffered a defeat at the hands of any team between Wilmington and Goldsboro. While the club officials here have not been heard from, it is confidently expected that the champions will accept the challenge if intendered.

ALL CHICAGO TALLIES WERE SCORED OFF MATTY.

New York, Sept. 22.—Chicago made it two out of three from New York today by taking the last game of the season in New York 5 to 0. The visitors hammered Mathewson unmercifully in the first inning and scored all their runs on three singles, a double, a triple, a wild pitch and a wild throw by Meyers. Cheney was invincible.

REDS LOSE EIGHTH STRAIGHT BROOKLYN TAKING SERIES.

Brooklyn, Sept. 22.—Cincinnati lost its 18th straight game here today when Brooklyn made a season's record for itself by capturing a whole series of five games. Daubert won the game with a single in the 10th with the bases full, one out and one run needed to win. Aitchison's wildness in the ninth let in Killifer with the tieing run.

"RED" CHARLIE DOOIN GETS UP HIS IRISH.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Errors and base on balls played a big part in today's game which St. Louis won from Philadelphia 5 to 4. Huggins and Magee each went to bat four times and scored two runs and yet neither was charged with a time at bat. Huggins drew three base on balls and was hit by the pitcher, while Magee received four base on balls. In the fifth inning Manager Dooin threw wild to first base and a spectator shouted a remark which caused Dooin to order the rooter's removal. A policeman escorted the rooter from the grounds after the umpires got between Dooin and the spectator and prevented blows from being struck.

CITY LEAGUE AVERAGES FOR SEASON OF 1914.

Compiled By B. H. Houston, Official Scorer

The complete batting and fielding averages of the City League 1914 season develops the fact that there is a good bunch of real baseball talent within the confines of the city, talent that is equal to the task of going through the fire of an entire season without swerving, turning in a good account on the final trial balance at the end of the season.

Nine players on the four teams ended the season with a batting record of .300 and better, five of them over the .325 mark. Two players among the .300 hitters have played in 16 games, these being Fillyaw and Houston, both of the Y. M. C. A. team, Fillyaw being the real batting leader with a showing of .325 with 43 times at bat in 16 games, Houston showing an even .300 clip with 47 trials in 16 games.

Coming down to the .250 batting mark lets in 25 athletes with this or a better showing, this taking in a fair percentage from every team in the league, although the select nine includes only players from two teams, the W. L. I. and Y. M. C. A., six of them being aligned with the latter organization.

At club batting, the Y. M. C. A. has a lead of 39 points over their nearest rival, the W. L. I., with .273. The Giants came third with .203, and the Boys' Brigade brings up the rear with .198 for a season record. It is a singular coincidence that at the club fielding end, the situation is almost reversed, the Boys' Brigade showing the way with .935, followed by the W. L. I., and Giants, the Association team bringing up the rear of the procession.

The Y. M. C. A. boys on four of the nine positions show the way at the fielding end, these being Orrell, first base; Thompson, second; Child, center field, and Green, pitcher.

The statistics give Holt an edge over Green for pitching honors, although "Pomp" has seen service in three more games than the Giant killer, while Shaw, of the Light Infantry is a close third with 11 games and a standing of the same as Green. Register, the star twirler of the Boys' Brigade, in 13 games shows a record of .384.

SUFFRAGISTS BUY A BALE.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Invests Surplus Fund in Movement.

New York, Sept. 22.—The National American Woman Suffrage Association broke all precedents in its history today by joining officially the "Buy a Bale" movement which is spreading over the country. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, authorized Mrs. Stanley McCormick, treasurer, to invest in southern cotton the fund known as the "Anna Howard Shaw fund", a small reserve fund amounting to $704, which has heretofore been held subject to call. Dr. Shaw, who is an interested student of Southern problems, instructed the treasurer of the association to invest this fund in 14 bales of cotton at 10 cents a pound.

"It is Doctor Shaw's idea," said Mrs. Stanley McCormick, "that this money, instead of lying idle in the bank, should be put out where it can do a little public spirited service. It is a very modest sum, of course, but I am sure it will prove to be at least an earnest of our good will toward the South where we have so many gallant friends."

Mrs. McCormick added that the fund would be divided up among the 14 Southern State associations.

"Each state president," she said, "will receive in a day or so a check for $50. She will be authorized to go into the open market and buy a bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound. She can leave it in the warehouse if she likes, or she can take it to the state suffrage headquarters and give it a place of honor on the platform. The point simply is that the national authorizes her, as trustee, to do her share in a perfectly disinterested way in a matter which we know is deeply engaging the attention of men and women in the South."

The treasurer concluded with the statement that so far as she knew the suffragists were prepared to stick to their investment until things had eased up in the South and cotton had come back to its normal figure.

NEW YORK NOTE ISSUE TWO TIMES OVERSUBSCRIBED

No Trouble in Selling a Hundred Million Dollars Worth of Paper.

New York, Sept. 22.—No official statement regarding the New York City $100,000,000 six percent note loan was issued by the banking syndicate today, but it was learned that the issue was at least two times over subscribed. Total applications aggregated almost 10,000 exclusive, it was said, of foreign renewals. It is expected that allotments will be made tomorrow. European subscribers wil be given preference while all smal subscribers in this country will take precedence over the banks and corporations. The notes which run from one to three years, already are at a premium, the treasure issue being quoted today at 102 to 102 1-4 as against the seling price of par.

BRYANS BACK TO WASHINGTON.

Leave Asheville After Spending Time at Summer Home.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 22.—Secretary of State Wm. J. Bryan and Mrs. Bryan left here this afternoon at 2:10 o'clock for Washington after having spent a week's vacation at their summer home "Blue Brier." They are due at the Capital tomorrow morning.

Mr. Bryan said he would make an effort to clear up such business as was before him in Washington and return to Asheville to continue his vacation the latter part of this week.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1914.

Is human vision bleared?

Has cotton beggared the South?

Buy a bale and swap it for a ham.

Blowing for a town is different from blowing it up.

Let 1915 go down in history as Food Crops Year.

We should have with us the man who can sell us plenty to eat.

In the early fall of 1911 cotton sold around eight cents and still the country wasn't ruined that year.

How many farmers in North Carolina know what it costs to make and market a bale of cotton?

"Holding for 10 cents" seems to be the slogan of the cotton growers every where. That's the way to get it.

A man has an idea that he couldn't think of eating horse meat, but he never says neigh when bologna is served at a free lunch.

The remedy for most all our woes would be peace in Europe and cessation of agitation and political calamity howling in America.

Invaders are never loved in countries which they invade, but back home they are loved for their brilliant exploits in the enemy's country.

When your enemy wants to compromise give him to understand that he does not want to compromise any worse than you do. Send him a bouquet.

The Philadelphia Record notes that a $400,000 court house fill cost the tax payers $2,100,000. Evidently the people suffer the way they vote in Pennsylvania.

After all, isn't it a fact that the fear of something to happen a month or a year from now is hurting business worse than what is happening or what has happened?

If cotton really is a money crop, why is it that every farmer who raises his own supplies is better off than farmers who stick to and get stuck on cotton so often?

Some of us are making a fight for high prices for what we have to sell and resisting high prices for what we have to buy. Price levels would suit about everything.

On the first of last January we exchanged "Happy New Year" greetings without knowing what was coming to us during 1914. Perhaps next year will be Happy New Year.

The New Orleans States announces that "women no longer wear aprons." Nevertheless men continue to make a noise as iw the aprons that have been discarded are now all strings.

Reports from interior towns indicate that business has picked up considerably during the last ten days. After all, there is no good reason why it should not continue to improve.

Under Secretary Bryan's new peace treaties with quite a number of foreign countries, each nation will have a year in which to prepare for a scrap or for contracting a case of cold feet.

The price of sweet potatoes has been multiplied in the last dozen years or so, while the price of cotton remains about the same or lower, and yet most Southern farmers produce cotton in preference to potatoes.

Just about the time the West thought it was going to enjoy a noiseless campaign, the announcement is made that Colonel Roosevelt proposes to make speeches in about a dozen states during the next few weeks.

Only three years ago cotton was about as low as it is now, if not lower, and without any pan-European war. And yet the calamity howl raised by some people would indicate that cotton prices were never so low as now.

DIVERSIFIED FARM RENT.

The cotton standard for farm values should be abandoned. There are other products usually as valuable and at times considerably more so. Throughout the South when a farm is leased, the customary stipulation is that the tenant shall plant a certain acreage in cotton and the rent is to be paid in cotton.

Over about Vidalia, Ga., says the Savannah News, big landowners have decided to accept corn as rent from their tenants. That is breaking away from the old plan, and the Vidalia plan is worth following in every State in the South. Certainly if cotton is going to sell at less than its costs to produce it, a landowner will want something more valuable than cotton.

The News says the Vidalia idea is a good one and that if adopted generally it would reduce the 1915 cotton crop and encourage the production of food and feed crops. It is suggested that land owners should stipulate that rents to be paid in corn, wheat, oats, hay, meat and other products equally necessary.

We know a farmer who used to plant all cotton till he got in debt. He decided to grow other crops as well as cotton. He paid as much attention to them as he did cotton, and he kept accounts against each of his crops. He says cotton came out nearly even sometimes but it got in debt to him several times, while he had to credit up a clear profit to everything else he grew on his farm.

Our farmer decided to diversify, and agreed with himself to plant three acres of corn to every one planted in cotton. He followed the rule and three years in succession the price of cotton was so low that he decided not to sell. He stored his cotton at home, representing his three years' crop, and finally sold it in a lump at 12 cents per pound. Meanwhile his family lived off the farm, and he sold enough corn, hay, oats and farm products to have all the money he needed.

This crop diversifier said that this change in his farming method taught him a new trick. He learned to produce 60 bushels of corn per acre, and rather than market from 1,800 to 2,000 bushels of corn each season he decided that the best way to do was to turn the grain into meat. He went into the hog business, bought five Jersey cows, and the result was that he got double the profit from his grain and forage that he would have gotten for these products if he had sold them.

He found it easier to market meat and butter, and the trick he learned was to make his grain and forage crops work for him during the winter in making meat and butter and beef. He was in debt when he quit planting all cotton. He is now a stockholder in his local bank and is buying cotton from his neighbors at 10 cents and is paying for it in corn at the market price. He will produce 22 bales of cotton of his own, but he will store it and hold it three years if necessary, like he did with the crops of three years when he could not get his price.

How many farmers are so independent as he? We can guarantee that all who are so independent do not depend on cotton.

HOW CROAKERS HURT.

If one did not know any better he would judge from the cane growing croakers in Louisiana that the Democratic tariff had literally ruined that state. One impressed with their calamity howling would presume that all Louisiana was fit for was to grow sugar cane, and now that the planters would not be protected by a tariff, Louisiana was about ready to be laid on the junk heap.

The idea has been created up North that the one industry upon which Louisiana depended for its prosperity was growing sugar cane. On the contrary the cane growing industry is not a drop in the bucket alongside the great agricultural, material and mineral wealth of Louisiana. Croaking, however, creates a different idea, and this from Better Farming shows how it is possible for croakers interested in one industry to hurt the whole State:

"My impressions of Louisiana before visiting the state were that it was a great producer of sugar, fairly good in cotton and rice, with no other agricultural resources. These impressions were due, I think, in a large measure to the continual plea of the senators and congressmen from Louisiana in Washington for the continuance of the tariff on sugar; for they said in substance that, if the tariff was removed from sugar, the industrial activities of the state would be ruined; and the statesmen were doubtless sincere in their arguments for the sugar industry. But they did not realize what the effect of such argument would be upon a man who was looking for a place to build a home. He would naturally conclude that any state which could be ruined by the removal of a cent or two a pound on sugar was a pretty good state to stay away from, and the result has been that all of the advertising that has been done by the railroads, commercial clubs and real estate men has been in a great measure rendered useless by the great cry to save the state by saving sugar."

Better Farming is published in Chicago, and the editor decided to go down and look over the havoc created by the Democratic tariff. He found out that Louisiana's corn crop alone was worth $4,147,984 more than the sugar industry from start to finish. Louisiana's cotton crop in 1913 brought $21,518.07. Her corn crop brought $21,036,484, and the sugar crop came last with a value of $16,888,500. This excludes Louisiana's great rice industry and her other products of the farm. Her agricultural and industrial production in 1913 footed up $166,241,563, and sugar was less than one-tenth of it. Her lumber production alone was worth $42,581,073.

Louisiana's practically small sugar interest has done so much calamity howling that the State has been injured and has to pursue a publicity campaign to keep people from thinking Louisiana was all in and down and out. Confound growlers, anyhow.

LOOKING OVER THE SOUTH.

One of the best times to attract capital and homeseekers to the South is while prosperity is in flower, but even now while we are having a cotton crisis on account of the war in Europe, people from other states are looking around for investments or seeking opportunities and homes.

Mr. H. T. Prosser, agricultural agent of the Seaboard Air Line, informs The Star that he has just finished a tour with a party of Westerners who have been looking over Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. The party consisted of Messrs. S. J. Perry, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Alfred Nelson, Wayland, Mich.; W. G. Wentworth, Chicago, Ill.; R. A. Countryman, Dekalb, Ill.; S. H. Aldridge, Plymouth, Ill., and H. Menderson, of Cincinnati, O.

Three states were represented in the party, and the gentlemen who came on the trip did so through the efforts of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization of Baltimore. That organization got together a year or two ago for the purpose of interesting capital and settlers in the different Southern States. It got together the representative Westerners who came South on this tour and they were accompanied by the organization's general agent, Mr. W. T. Berg, 807 Kenner Building, Chicago.

The Star is informed that the party made extensive investigations in North Carolina and it is yet to spend some time in this State. They express themselves as especially pleased with North Carolina's delightful climate, with the hospitality of our people and with the splendid opportunities to be met all over the State.

In each state visited a representative of the Southern Settlement & Development Organization accompanied the party. They represent all told about 25 families and we are assured that they will return home and make a favorable report to the families and others interested.

The Southern Settlement & Development Organization has been instrumental in giving information and facts concerning the South to a great number of people, with the result that about twenty or more are at present visiting the South. Mr. Prosser, of the Seaboard Air Line, states that the organization's Chicago representative is optimistic as to the possibilities along his territory and it is learned from him that there seems to be a strong tendency towards the South. Through the efforts of the organization and the people in the several Southern States, the Organization hopes to interest many people who are looking for a change of residence with a view to bettering their opportunities as well as to escape the rigor of the more northern climate.

NEW CURRENTS OF TRADE.

War alters the currents of trade and after each great disturbance in any quarter of the world there seems to be a revolution of opportunities. Even now American trade is springing up in some queer corners, and in the next year or two our trade will rapidly develop in quarters where we little dream of doing commerce.

War's alteration of the currents of trade is manifested in the arrival of an Icelandic steamer in New York with a cargo of wool, furs and salt herring to be traded for grain. The war has closed the customary sources of supply for Iceland and other Scandinavian countries.

In Chile 40,000 nitrate workers have been thrown out of employment by the war. Business stagnation threatens several South American countries, and several ports are doing little commerce. That is because their largest commerce was with Europe and only a little of it was with America.

Here's wishing success for the "National Cotton Fashions Show" to be held in Washington October 7 and 8 under the patronage of Mrs. Thos. R. Marshall and Mrs. Champ Clark and other leaders of the capital's official society, as a part of the movement to have American women wear clothing made of cotton.

The charge repeatedly made by the cotton producing interests against national banks that they are diverting the crop moving money and the emergency currency from the uses for which the government provided it should be confirmed or denied. It is well that Secretary McAdoo has decided to investigate.

We regret the destruction of cathedrals and the ruin of cities far less than we deplore the destruction of human life during war times. Destruction of what God creates seems to cause fewer protests than the demolition of what man constructs.

If cotton is a get-rich-quick crop, what have the farmers done with their money that they should have to call on the government for aid when it would seem that former years of prosperity should have enabled them to stand just one year of hard luck?

When cotton was eight cents before we didn't have any Wilson or McAdoo or government crop moving fund or emergency currency, and yet the country didn't go to the demnition bow-wows. And that was only three years ago.

The world powers ought to have treaties agreeing to observe treaties after they are made. Any nation can abrogate a treaty on the ground that conditions prevailing at the time a treaty was made have disappeared or been reversed.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A New York tobacco expert declares that the war has boosted the consumption of chewing gum and tobacco by 10 per cent. Also, the rag-chewing habit by 100 per cent.—Columbia State.

Following the example of the United States, the navy departments of Russia, Japan and Norway have prohibited the serving of liquor either to men or officers on board all ships of the navy.—Exchange.

The Wilmington Star's idea of the campaign just opening in North Carolina is that the Republicans "are going to complain to the people that the Democratic party has committed all sorts of atrocities to 'keep them out of office so they shan't have another chance to wreck the State." And that is the whole case quite neatly stated.—Charlotte Observer.

It is announced that the Republicans will start a paper at Greensboro or Raleigh to be known as "The Protectionist", protection being, it is alleged, the cardinal principle of the old line Republican party in this State. The Republicans dropped something like a hundred thousand dollars in a publication venture in this State once, but in politics the burnt child does not dread the fire.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Boston scheme to stop shipments of food supplies to the warring countries might work but for the fact that the women and children would be the ones first affected. Not only that, but since the soldiers of Europe must fight whether or no, humanitarian considerations demand that they fight on a full stomach. "Beets and sugar with bread as a luxury" makes the lot of the fighting man doubly hard.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Richmond Cotton Warehouse Company began active business yesterday by storing over a hundred bales of cotton on the first day. The company, instead of building warehouses, has rented the Dockery-Porter buildings and stables in the Rockets and will store the cotton there until this is filled. Arrangements have been made then to use the large livery stables now being built by Mr. John Thomas. The capacity of the buildings will be in the neighborhood of 3,000 bales. Mr. J. Stansill Covington is in charge of the warehouses.—Rockingham Post.

Among the reports sent out from Washington alleging unaccommodating disposition on part of some of the banks of North Carolina, was one charging that a cutsomer who had a deposit averaging $30,000 a year in one of the National banks in Raleigh is unable to borrow a penny from that bank. There are three National banks in Raleigh and the officers of each have printed a card in The News and Observer giving flat denial to the charge. As a matter of fact, entirely too much loose talk has been indulged in at the expense of the good reputation of the North Carolina banks. We have no doubt they have been doing the best possible under the present stress, but the quickest way for a bank to bring itself into disrepute would be to show favoritism under the conditions now prevailing, or at any time, for that matter.—Charlotte Observer.

It has been estimated that there are 25,000,000 acres of land in the South ideally suited, so far as soil composition is concerned, for the growth of vegetables and fruits. Only a very small percentage of this great area is now being devoted to truck farming, and much of it is not in use at all for agricultural purposes. The United States Department of Agriculture says there is land enough in the South to produce the vegetables and fruit supplies required by many times the present population of the entire country. "Lack of suitable lands is eliminated for many generations; and further development waits upon the solution of economic problems rather than upon the discovery of suitable soils." Truck farming already is making rapid progress in the Southern States. The South at the present time is engaged in shipping thousands of carloads of melons, fruits and vegetables to the markets of the North. If it be true that there are 25,000,000 acres of land available for the growth of commodities of this kind—and there is no reason to doubt it—there should be no question of the ability of this country to produce all that is needed for the sustenance of a rapidly increasing population. If the South, properly developed, can supply food products for the entire country, then the United States should be able to feed the world, if necessary.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AN UNNECESSARY DELAY.

To the Editor of the Star:

For the space of ten minutes yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock certain citizens of Wilmington were called upon to wait in a car of the Tidewater Power Company at Front and Princess streets for some time, while a gentleman in an automobile expostulated with a policeman as to his right to be forced to run his machine back a sufficient distance in order that the trolley car might proceed on its way. The policeman had been called upon to straighten out the tangle after a delay of some minutes. But not even a policeman was sufficient to budge him until a wordy argument had ensued.

The duties of a traffic officer as defined by law are to see that certain rules and regulations relative to traveling the streets are observed. When conditions arise such as happened yesterday when because of repairs to the trolley wire all trolley cars had to use the other side of the track, of course there was a tendency to confuse traffic, and common sense would suggest that the officer on duty would have to exercise his discretion in seeing that the streets were kept clear, in order that there might be no serious delays.

Whether or not he might use the rights vested in him as an officer of the law to the best advantage, of course, might be a matter of considerable difference of opinion. But we respectfully submit that under such conditions that no citizen had a right to cause other citizens to be delayed in order that he might have an argument with a policeman as to the officer's rights. As the officer of the law, the policeman was in authority, and his instructions should have been obeyed.

RADICAL CHANGES IN SCHOOL REGULATIONS

City Superintendent To Have Office in Court House.

Board of Education Adopts Plan for Securing Closer Co-Operation in the Administration of its Affairs.

Radical changes in the administative regulations of the Board of Education, by which both the city superintendent of schools and the county superintendent of public schools will be in the office of the Board in the Court House, where all business pertaining to the schools shall be transacted, were adopted by this body at a special meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Under the new arrangement this office will be kept open daily from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. and from 2:30 P. M. until 5 P. M. and the stenographer of the superintendent of city schools will have her office here. Her duties will be enlarged so as to include any necessary service to the Board of Education, the superintendent of public instruction and the committeeman of the city schools.

Other changes made are designed to facilitate the payment of vouchers and to secure a more prompt dispatch of business with a minimum amount of delay.

These changes have been under consideration by the Board of Education for some time and are designed to make the work of the Board of Education and the school committeeman of the City of Wilmington better and more effective. By having one central office where all the business pertaining to the business administration of the schools can receive attention it is believed that much delay can be avoided.

All the members of the Board ,including Mr. J. O. Carr, chairman, Mr. J. G. L. Gieschen and Mr. S. Solomon were present at the meeting yesterday. Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, and Superintendent John J. Blair also attended the meeting.

The Board also decided upon the temporary distribution of pupils for the city schools, particulars of which are given in another column.

Following are the administrative regulations adopted by the Board yesterday afternoon:

"For the better and more effective work of the Board of Education and school committeemen in the city of Wilmington, the following regulations are established:

"The business office of the superintendent of public instruction of the county and the superintendent of the city schools shall be in the office of the Board of Education of New Hanover at the Courthouse, where all business shall be transacted pertaining to the schools.

"The office of the Board of Education shall be kept open from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M., and from 2:30 P. M. until 5 P. M., and the stenographer of the superintendent of city schools shall have her office in the office of the Board of Education, and shall render any necessary service to the Board of Education, the superintendent of public instruction, the superintendent of the city schools and the committeemen of the City scvhools, and the books of the city committeement shal be kept in said office.

"All matters to be submitted to the Board of Education, whether complaints or requests, shall be presented in person at a meeting of the Board, or shall be submitted in writing and filed in the office; and such matters will not be considered by the members individually, but only at meetings of the Board, and if if urgent importance the superintendent of public instruction will notify the chairman of the Board of Education and a call meeting will be had to attend to the same.

"All bills against the Board of Education or any of the schools within the City of Wilmington, shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of public instruction and approved by a member of the Board of Education when the bills are against the Board of Education, and by a member of the committee, when the bills are against any one of the City schools, before vouchers are issued for same by the superintendent of public Instruction. All bills to be paid by the Board of Education, whether for salaries or otherwise, shall become payable only at regular meetings of the Board; provided, that building and repair accounts may be paid whenever such work is completed, and teachers and janitors salaries may be paid when the month expries.

"All regular meetings of the Board of Education shall be held at 4 P. M., on the second Monday of each month, unless for good reasons postponed.

"The salaries of the county superintendent of public instruction, of the superintendent of city schools, and stenographer will be paid by the Board of Education out of the contingent fund, and no part of same apportioned among the respective schools as heretofore done with respect to city superintendent and stenographer."

CIVIL CASES HEARD.

Little Progress in Superior Court Yesterday.

Progress in Superior Court, now engaged with civil matters, was rather slow yesterday, though several cases were disposed of, most of them, however, of little public interest.

Yesterday morning Judge Allen heard arguments in the case of the City of Wilmington against S. P. Cowan, sheriff an action for $3,500 brought by the city for the value of material used in the construction of the Sixth street bridge, seized by Sheriff Cowan in an action brought by the Des Moines Bridge and Iron Company, which furnished the material. E. S. Martin, Esq., as referee, decided the case in favor of the city, and if this holding is confirmed, the city will not be compelled to pay for the material a second time. Sheriff Cowan is protected by ample bond furnished by the Des Moines Bridge & Iron Company, either way the case is decided. Judge Allen is considering the case to decide whether to submit it to jury.

In the case of the Hanover Iron Works against A. J. Hanby and others, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $143 with interest from April 17th, 1913.

Andrew Green, colored, was granted a divorce from Ida Green on Biblical grounds.

The following cases were non-suited yesterday. Whitte Fruit Company against Nelson & Co.; J. G. Wright & Son against Geo. W. Kidder and N. A. Culbreth and others against the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

WHERE PUPILS WILL REPORT NEXT MONDAY

Plan of Temporary Distribution for City Schools

Hemenway Students to be Divided Up Among Other Schools Until the Building is Completed—Y. M. C. A. to be Used.

The temporary distribution of the pupils of the different school districts of the city for the opening of the fall term Monday was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the Board of Education in the office of the county superintendent yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The present arrangement is temporary for the reason that the new Hemenway school building is not yet completed and this has made it necessary to seek other quarters for the pupils of this school.

Rapid progress is being made by the contractors on the Hemenway building and it is expected that it will be completed by the latter part of November and possibly earlier. In the meantime the boys of the Eighth grade of the Hemenway school will use the Hibernian Hall and all the Sixth and Seventh grade boys in the same territory will report at the new Y. M. C. A. building on Market street. The other pupils of this school will be taken care of at the other school buildings of the city until the new building is completed.

Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the Hemenway school committee, met with the board yesterday afternoon and assisted in making the arrangements.

Upon the completion of the new Hemenway school building new arrangements will be made for the distribution of the pupils of the city.

Following is the present plan of distribution of pupils as decided upon yesterday afternoon:

Pupils in District No. 1.

All Eighth grade girls between Market street and the northern boundary of the city will report to the High School building.

All Eighth grade boys in the same territory will report at the Hibernian Hall, opposite the City Hall, and on North Third street.

All Sixth and Seventh grade boys in the same territory will report to the new Y. M. C. A. building on Market street, near Third; except that the Sixth grade boys east of Eighth street will report to the Isaac Bear Memorial school as heretofore.

All Sixth and Seventh grade girls, between Princess street and the northern boundary of the city will report to the Northside school; and those between Princess and Market streets to the Union school; except that all Sixth grade girls east of Eighth street will report to the Isaac Bear Memorial school as heretofore.

All Second to Fifth grades, inclusive, between Market and Campbell streets, and the railroad, and west of Eighth street, will report to the Union school building, corner of Sixth and Ann streets.

All First to Fifth grades, inclusive, north of Campbell street, except those in Isaac Bear district, will report to the Northside school.

All primary first grade pupils between Market street and Campbell, and west of Eighth street, will be assigned to quarters to be announced before the end of this week.

Pupils in District No. 2.

All Seventh and Eighth grade children south of Market street to the southern boundary of the city, including Greenfield Terrace and Sunset Park will report to the Union school.

All First to Sixth grades, inclusive, between Market street and Castle street, and west of Eighth street, will report to the Union school.

All First to Sixth Grades, inclusive, south of Castle street and west of Eighth street, including Greenfield Terrace and Sunset Park, will report to the Southside school.

Isaac Bear Memorial School.

All First to Sixth grades, inclusive, east of Eighth street, will report to the Isaac Bear Memorial school as heretofore.

PUBLIC WAREHOUSE FOR CITY

Owners of Present Clyde Line Depot Here Will Lease Space for Storage Purposes.

Announcement was made yesterday by the Fidelity Trust & Development Company, owners of the present Clyde Line depot at the foot of Grace street, that upon its being vacated on October 1st, it will be converted into a public wharf and warehouse to be leased to business men who may need space of this kind. Much of the space has already been taken, it is stated, and little difficulty is anticipated in disposing of the remainder.

Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, sales manager of the Fidelity Trust & Development Company, in speaking of the nature of the warehouse, said that the rates would be on the same scale as in Baltimore, where a certain amount is charged a day for each unit. Arrangements have been made with the McEachern Towing Company, he said, to transfer freight from the warehouse to the new Clyde Line terminals at the foot of Queen street at a nominal cost.

There are several spur tracks to the warehouse which will make it easy to transfer shipments from railroad points. The shed over the original site of the Wilmington Iron Works will be converted into a warehouse also and will make a considerable addition to the storage space.

One of the interesting possibilities in connection with the warehouse is that Wilmington may be made a port of call by the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company, of Baltimore, Md. Should this be done the warehouse and wharf would in all probability be used. Mr. Mason L. Weems Williams, general manager of this company, is expected to visit Wilmington in the next few days for the purpose of conferring with the Fidelity officers relative to this proposition.

Many Go To Florida Trip.

More than 100 persons left yesterday on the Atlantic Coast Line for Jacksonville, Tampa and other points in Florida for a visit of a week or ten days. The fare to Jacksonville for the round trip was only $7.50 and to Tampa $9.50. The return limit is September 29th.

DISTRICT INSTITUTE OF EPWORTH LEAGUE

Convenes in Bladen Street Tomorrow Night.

Interesting Programme Arranged for Conference of Young People Which Will be in Session Through Friday.

The Epworth League Institute of the Wilmington district of the Methodist Episcopal church, which will convene in Bladen Street Methodist church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock and will continue in session through Friday will be attended by a large number of young people from many of the churches in this vicinity. The purpose of the institute is to discuss the different features of the work of the Epworth Leagues of the district.

The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. L. E. Thompson, presiding elder of the Wilmington district. There will be three sessions Friday, one in the morning, one in the afternoon and the closing session at night.

The first meeting of the institute will open tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock with a song service which will be followed by a sermon by Rev. L. E. Thompson. At the close of the sermon announcements will be made and delegates assigned to homes.

The service Friday morning will begin at 9:30 o'clock with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. J. D. Bundy, pastor of Grace Methodist church. At 9:45 o'clock there wil be round table talks on the department of spiritual work of the department of social service which will be led by Mr. E. A. Palmgren, of this city, treasurer of the North Carolina Epworth League conference. After brief verbal reports by the delegates and music by the choir Miss Lizzie Hancock, of Newbern, secretary of the North Carolina Epworth League conference, will discuss the work of the Junior Department.

The afternoon service will begin with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. N. M. Wright, of Wilmington. This will be followed by round table talks on the department of recreation and culture conducted by Miss Grace C. Branch, of this city. At 3:30 o'clock Miss Hancock will speak on the Missionary Department; its needs and work. After a general discussion of matters of interest to the delegates the session will adjourn.

At the evening service which will begin at 8 o'clock, Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, will deliver an address on "The Epworth League; Its Needs and Practical Workings in Our Church." Following his address there will be brief talks on the "Quiet Hour." After announcements concerning the work of the district by Rev. Chas. M. Lance, of Southport, district secretary, the institute will adjourn.

It is hoped to make the institute one of great inspiration as well as profit to those who attend.

MYSTERY OF NEW-MADE GRAVE

Failure of Colored Undertaker to Turn in Permit Set Wheels of Law In Motion.

The discovery Monday morning by the custodian of Oak Grove cemetery of a new made grave, for which he had no burial permit, and which upon examination, was found to contain the body of a six-months old, male colored child, in a bad state ofdecomposition, developed into a mystery that yesterday set the ponderous wheels of the law in motion and was only cleared up after a coroner's jury had been summoned and warrants issued and served upon Alex Davis, a colored undertaker, and two other negroes. And it could have all been avoided had Davis turned in to the custodian of the cemetery the permit issued by the health department for the burial of the child.

Mr. F. W. Cornish, custodian of Oak Grove cemetery, discovered Monday morning a newly-made grave, just within the entrance of the cemetery. Having no knowledge as to how the grave came to be there, and no record of a burial permit for the location of a grave there, he made inquiry of those living in the neighborhood and ascertained that on the previous night some unknown parties had been seen with a light at or near the site of the grave.

The matter was reported to the health department, with the information that the burial had been made without a permit, and this constituting a violation of Statute, an investigation was started.

A report of the matter was made to Corner John J. Fowler yesterday morning and the body was exhumed by Undertaker W. W. Kink. It was found to be that of a male negro child, about six months old, badly decomposed.

After a conference with several county officials, the coroner had a jury summoned, composed of Messrs. Norwood Orrell, W. H. Howell, F. C. Dollar, Geo. H. Ward, C. H. Keen and F. H. Krahnke, Jr., and they went out and viewed the body.

In the meantime Special Officer H. Mack Godwin had been called in and detailed to work on the case. Accompanied by Dr. John Thames he went to the cemetery, viewed the body, and within half an hour afterwards, reported to the office the names of child and its mother and the fact that Alex Davis had been given the body for burial.

When the case was turned over to him, Officer Godwin remembered that a few days ago, when at the home of Carolina McGowan, colored, in Oakdale avenue, to make an arrest on another case, he had seen a colored child, apparently at the point of death. When taken to the cemetery he recognised the body as that of the child he had seen. He went to the McGodwan woman's home, and she told him that the child's name was Charlie Jenkins Pope, that she was its mother, and that when it died she turned the body over to Alex Davis to be buried.

When this information was reported to the officials, Justice Geo. Harriss immediately issued warrants for Alex Davis, Charles Pope and the McGowan woman, and the papers were served by Office Godwin and Deputy Sheriff Reynolds.

In the meantime, though, the health

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR ABBATOIR PLANT

Messrs. Rhodes & Underwood the Successful Bidders.

Authorized Quarantine Pen Feature Will Mean Much—Will be Operated by J. J. Hopkins, Son & Co. Advantages.

J. J. Hopkins & Son Co., Inc., yesterday afternoon awarded to Rhodes & Underwood, a well known local contracting firm, the contract for the construction of a modern abbatoir and quarantine pen to be located on their property on Smith's Creek, half a mile from the city limits, the cost of the plant and machinery to be approximately $10,000.

Work upon the plant will begin immediately, and it is to be completed within 60 days. It will be erected under the supervision of Mr. B. H. Stephens, the architect who prepared the plans and specifications.

When completed, the new plant will give Wilmington one of the most modern and best equipped slaughter houses and quarantine pens in the South. In order to operate the quarantine pen feature in connection with the abbatoir, it was necessary for the company to get the permission of the United Sttaes government,as well as the State government. Agents of both departments visited Wilmington some time ago, and after inspection of the site and plans, authorized the company to operate a quarantine pen.

By reason of this feature it will be possible to ship cattle into New Hanover county from tick-infected districts, which is prohibited under the present circumstances. These cattle will be penned and slaughtered at the abbatoir.

It is expected that the establishment of an authorized quarantine pen here will not only open up to Wilmington and larger territory from which to draw on for a fresh meat supply, but also be the means of encouraging cattle raising on a more extensive scale throughout the surrounding sections.

The abbatoir, affording means for slaughtering cattle under the most sanitary conditions, is something that the New Hanover county health department has been working for several years.

CONTRACT FOR FIRE STATION

Mr. L. H. Vollers Will Erect New Municipal Building at Fifth and Castle Streets.

At a special meeting of City Council yesterday at noon Mr. L. H. Vollers was awarded the contract for the constrution of the new fire station to be erected at Fifth and Castle streets, replacing the old station at Sixth and Castle. Mr. Vollers bid of $6,473.75 was the lowest of eight submittted to Council. The contract for the plumbing in the building was awarded to J. C. McCartney & Son at $349.55, the lowest of three bids submitted. Council will formally ratify the awarding of the contracts at the weekly session today.

Plans for the new fire station were drawn by Mr. J. F. Gause, Jr., and he was act as supervising architeact for the construction or the station. Work upon the building will begin as soon as the material can be laid down at the site, and the structure will be rushed to completion.

Council sold the material in the old buildings at Fourth street and the railroad and at Sixth and Castle streets to Furlong & Sternberger for $100. Mrs. S. J. Frank bid $35 for the old building on Fourth street, this being the only other bid received.

The bids submitted to Council yesterday for constructing the new station were as follows:

L. H. Vollers, $6,473.75; Quarterman & McDonald, $7,765; Rhodes & Underwood, $7,400; A. D. O'Brien, $6,325; Morton & Cox, $6,810; K. W. Jevell, $6,633; Wallace & Osterman, $6,675.

The three proposals for the plumbing were as follows: Capps-Griffith Plumbing Co., $438; J. C. McCartney & Son, $349.55; W. R. Dosher & Co., $400.

According to the original plans of Council, the new fire station was not to cost more than $5,000, and the members of the body were somewhat surprised that all the bids ran over $6,000 and upward. However, after a thorough discussion of the matter, it was decided that the best thing to do would be to go ahead with the building as originally planned, even at an increased cost over the amount contemplated at first.

THEATRICAL

Both in number and lavishness, Al G. Field has this season increased the spectacles which he always incorporates in his minstrel performance, until now the production resembles the mammoth pictorial presentations which are exploited for that phase alone, such as "Kismet" "Garden of Allah," and the like.

Four sumtuous stage pictures are given, each of which would constitute a production in itself—The Birth of Minstrelsy, Minna Ha Ha, The Land of the Midnight Sun, and The Panama Pacific Exposition.

An atmosphere of imposing elegance and charm pervades the setings for The Birth of Minstrelsy, which reproduces in miniature, the first American minstrel entertainment, and the changes since that time, and concludes with views, songs and dances, which epitomize the Old and the New South.

Minna Ha Ha, which travesties the methods of moving picture operators in Indian surroundings, has as a background a score in the majestic Grand Canyon, with water falls, a lake, a river, and an Indian village, all gorgeous with the reflected gold of moonlight.

The Arctic North, with the vast spread of ice, snow and sea, luminous with reflections of sun, moon and stars, is revealed in The Land of the Midnight Sun, and the audience is held spellbound by the final transformation, reproducing the indesoribable beauty of the Aurora Borealis.

JACK KENNEDY
With Al. G. Fields' Minstrels Next Monday Night.

A kaledeoscopic view of the main pavilion interior, and of the grounds by day and night, in "The Panama Pacific Exposition" reflects the compohensiveness the exhibits, the glow cosmo-politan character of the occasion, and the sense of picturesque abandon which moves the crowds at such times.

The Al. G. Field Minstrels are at the Academy of Musice next Monday. Tickets will be on sale at Woodall & Sheppard's, corner Front and Princess, Thursday morning.

"The Sins of The Father."

The strongest play from a dramatic point of view, so say eminent dramatic critics from all over the country, is Thomas Dixon's "The Sins of the Father." It is a drama of modern eugenics demanding a nobler race of men and handled as it is by a master of fiction and dramatic art there is, of course, a desire far above the usual, to see it. Theatregoers of this city will be glad to know that it will be an early offering at the Academy of Music September 30th, one night only.

"Trey O' Hearts" at Bijou.

It's here again, after what seemed an interminable wait—it has only been seven days, but it seemed an age to those who have been on the anxious bench as to what would 'happen next." Well, it happens and happens a-planty in this installment, which comes in two reels as usual. Of course we're talking about "The Trey O' Hearts." Well, the sixth installment is undoubtedly the most thrilling yet—and can be said of each of the subsequent chapters to come—for we've read it through, and know whereof we speak.

"The Trey O' Hearts" already has reached the stage of popularity that has never before come to any serial story, and it is estimated that in the United States over five million people are waiting and watching for every installment—just the same as you are. It is the product of a master hand at fiction writing, and the scenairo is the product of Miss Bess Meredyth, that popular Universal star. It is produced by Wilfred Lucas, the greatest producer of feature pictures that has yet been known—that's what makes it "go" and go like no other picture ever did—but we almost forgot—peerless little Celo Madison has a big part in the victory, don't you think?

A mammoth Crystal comedy, "The Bachelors' Housekeeper, comes next on the bill, and features that popular pair, Vivian Prescott and Charlie DeForrest.

Then there's a big Reliance number, "How Izzy Stuck To His Post," that will please everyone. Quite an array of talent on today's bill, eh? Just come and see.

Great Day at Grand.

Royally, superbly and most up-todately will the Grand Theatre, the 'move" house that leads them all and that is the blue ribboner, celebrate this Wednesday. For today it has one of the greatest of all shows and the wise theatre-goer will certainly wend his or her way to this delightful amusement palace today. It takes but 5 cents to witness the great show, too, and under such delightfully comfortable conditions. Bear in mind that tomorrow comes the great dramatic hit, "The Squaw Man," with Dustin Farnum in the title role.

Not only will today's bill set before the devotes of the screen the best known actors and actresses, but the most wonderfully educated horse in the Vitagraph success, "Detective and Matchmaker." It is a swell, intense story, with the horse as the leading character.

A monster, brilliant 2-reeler is also one of today's features in Selig's "Etienne of the Glad Heart." It is a thrilling story of the backwoods, and it steams with excitement. There are man spectacular scenes, lead by a canoe race down a swollen stream.

And "A Tango Spree." Ah, here is a modern film that has been the talking of the greater cities and the Grand is fortunate in landing it.

At The Victoria Today.

More and more every day the Wilmington amusement public is appreciating the big and expensive vaudeville shows, exclusively Keith acts, the handsome Victoria Theatre is offering them. This thearte is putting forth extra efforts and making larger expenditures than ever before in order to give the folks of Wilmington the cream of the Keith acts and Wilmington folks should certainly be appreciative. The present show is one of the snappiest, pretiest and in every other way superb shows ever offered in Wilmington. The musical spectacle being presented by the Cleora Miller Trio is nothing short of marvelous and it is received with thunderous applause at every performance. The artists are of the highest class and the act is beautifully staged. Dare Brothers are providing another exceptionally brilliant act. Their feats of skill and strength are wonderful, and it is a graceful, refined act. The Dohertys are also big hits, with songs, dances and jests. They are real clever entertainers and it is a constant glow of fun while they are on the stage. Jack Polk is aslo a big card, with his rapidfire fun. Then there are new pictures and a lot of new numbers by the orchestra. Today, at matinee and for two performances tonight, the present bill holds forth for the last time, giving away to the usual midweek change tomorrow.

RENTAL OF MARKET SPACE.

Annual Auction at Front Street Market House Yesterday.

The annual auction of space at the Front street market, not already covered under long time leases, was conducted yesterday morning by Councilman Chas. C. Loughlin, acting head of the department of public affairs in the absence of Councilman T. W. Wood, and Col. C. H. White, city tax collector. Old tenants renewed their space at practically their former rentals.

J. J. Hopkins, Son & Co., in addition to space held under a long time lease, rented the stand at present occupied by the firm at $240 a year at 25 cents premium and also rooms 1 and 2 at $18 a year each. Davis & Hintze renewed their present space at $240 a year and 25 cents premium.

Stand No. 6 was rented to Mr. J. M. Holland at $75 a year and 25 cents premium; room No. 3 went to Mr. J. H. Hardin at $36 a year and 25 cents premium; Store No. 1 was rented by Mr. W. M. Sneeden at $180 a year and 25 cents premium; Sneeden & Hobbs took store No. 2 at $120 a year; R. C. Fergus rented fish stalls Nos. 1 and 2 for $288 a year and $73.50 premium; Mr. O. R. King took fish spaces Nos. 3 and 4 for $288 a year and premium of $140.

—L. V. Grady, Esq., of Whiteville, county attorney for Columbus county, who was in Wilmington yesterday, received a telephone message while here from Bolton stating that a negro had been killed there by another negro.

department had closed for the day. However, when the name of the dead child was reported to Dr. C. T. Nesbitt, the county health officer, went to the office and upon examining the records, found that a death certificate for Charlie Jenkins Pape had been filed there, and a burial permit issued to Alex Davis. The burial permit, however, had never been returned to the office.

Dr. Nesbitt communicated this information to Justice Harriss, and this apparently clearing up the mystery, he recognized Davis and the McGowan woman until 12 o'clock today, while Pope was held. While to all appearances the whole trouble arose out of the failure of Davis to turn the burial permit over to the custodian of the cemetery, Justice Harriss did not feel like dropping the matter until all details have been investigated. For this reason he will look further into it today.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. K. C. Denny, of Rooks, was a guest at the Orton yesterday.

—C. D. Koonce, Esq., of Chadbourn, spent yesterday in the city on professional business.

LOCAL DOTS.

—A charter has been issued for the Kelford Coca-Cola Bottling Works, a branch of the Wilmington Coca-Cola Bottling Works, which will be ocated at Kelford, N. C. The incorporators are Messrs. G. H. and W. J. Hutaff and Mrs. Tabitha Hutaff.

—Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly has returned from Raleigh, where he went to take Ernest Jenkins, colored, who was sentenced last week to serve a term of ten years in the State's prison. Mr. Kelly said that already more prisoners have been received at the penitentiary this month than for any month in recent years.

—George Baldwin, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Constable Davis on a charge of speeding. He will be tried before Justice Harriss this morning. The warrant was issued at the instance of Deputy Sheriff Kermon, who said that Baldwin was the cause of the county's motorcycle being smashed several days ago. It will cost about $75 to repair it.

—The United States Civil Service Commission announces a non-educational examination for a vacancy as leverman on a pipe line hydraulic dredge, used on the Cape Fear river, at a salary of $85 a month and subsistence. All applications must be filed with the secretary of civil service examiners at Wilmington before the hour for closing business on October 20th.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

Conference in Richmond Next Week to Discuss This Subject.

That the people of the South are thoroughly awake to the opportunities that will be opened on account of the present deplorable European war is evidenced by the many conferences that have been called to consider various phases of the unprecedented conditions now existing.

One of the opportunities presented to American trade on account of the war is that of supplying South America and the West Indian islands with many of those articles which have heretofore been supplied by European countries.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce has received notice of a conference which will be held in the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond, Va., on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, for the purpose of considering this important matter. Business men from all sections of the South are expected to be in attendance.

The Chamber has also received formal notice of a meeting to be held in Atlanta, Ga., on October 5th and 6th, to discuss a number of questions relative to the agricultural interests of the South. This meeting has been called by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and will be held in the State capitol. Delegates from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee wil attend.

Reduced rates over all lines have been granted.

New Skin Peeler In Great Demand

Since the discovery that mercolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales as far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

Ordinary mercolized wax, according to Prof. Hoffman, gently peels off the devitalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old worn-out complexion, the more youthful under skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, tan and freckles are, of course, removed at the same time. As the wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing it in original packages and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied to face, neck or hands the same as cold cream, allowed to remain over night, then washed off with warm water.—National Drug Review.

CAPT. TIEBOR'S SEALS.

This marvelous animal act is one of the features of the Sparks Circus, which is billed to exhibit here Monday October 5, and the following is the criticism of the New York Morning Telegraph of Saturday, November 22nd, 1913, at which time these wonderful animals were playing an extended engagement at all the largest New York City Vaudeville theatres:

"Training horses, dogs and monkeys is easily understandable, but to take a quintet of sea lions, performing out of the water ,their natural habitat, and to put them through a course of stunts, including walking tight rope, playing as a brass band, juggling rubber balls and other articles and even doing comedy stunts, is almost unbelievable, and for once that hackneyed phrase, 'must be seen to be appreciated,' is apropos. One of the seals got many laughs by his trick of applauding each stunt by the other seals. He does this by means of his flippers on the sides of the stand from which he works. Capt. Tiebor is a young chap of likable personality, and there is a cleanliness and neatness to the entire act that goes far toward making it an unusual animal act and a great favorite with the ladies and children."

NOT GUILTY OF ASSAULT.

John Hedrick Did No Wrong in Slapping Woman, Says Recorder.

That John Hedrick, colored, did no wrong in slapping a woman, who at the time admitted she was chastising his young son, was the decision of the Recorder yesterday morning. Katie Shepard, colored, preferred charges against John because she said he had been much provoked when he found her punishing his son for some alleged misdeed that he had done. Prayer for judgment was continued until today in the case against John Williams and Ed Alford, both colored boys, charged with engaging in a fisticuff in a public place.

Roy Turner, white, and Alfred Hardy and George Ray, both colored, were each given the customary sentence on a gambling charge, this being prayer for judgment continued upon the payment of the costs. They paid the costs.

Deputy Recorder Harriss presided yesterday morning in the absence of Recorder John J. Furlong.

FUNERAL OF MR. FARAGO.

Services Conducted From Winter Park Presbyterian Church.

The funeral of Mr. Louis Farago, whose death occurred at his home at Winter Park Monday morning, was conducted from Winter Park Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. Andrew J. Howell. The services were attended by a number of friends. Following the funeral at the church the body was carried to the union station and taken on the afternoon train to Tallapoosa, Ga., for interment.

The pall bearers were Messrs. R. T. Sinclair G. C. McIntire, L. D. Latta and R. F. Beasley.

TO CONSIDER RELIEF OF COTTON GROWERS

State Board of Agriculture to Hold Meeting.

Called by Commissioner Graham, Reluctantly, Upon Petition of Majority—Suits Before Commerce Commission.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham said this morning that he will within a few days now issue the call for a special meeting of the members of the State Board of Agriculture on October 1st in compliance with the petition of a majority of the board, to consider the matter of relief to the cotton farmers in aiding them in caring for the "distress" cotton and holding cotton for the maintenance of prices.

The commissioner says he does that because the majority of the board have finally asked for the meeting, although he does not believe there is anything that the full board can do that is not already being done. He thinks there is too much agitation and talk now and believes that the solution is local co-operation in warehousing and holding cotton and stopping political and other agitation on the situation. He believes there is no real occasion for so much stir and insists that there is no good to come from acceding to the demands of some of the members of the Board of Agriculture for the board to expend $9,000 supplementary to $1,000 by the State Farmers' Union in further stirring the condition among the farmers. He has Capt. T. B. Parker, head of the farmers' institute work, read to go to any point in the State and address the farmers and co-operate with them in whatever movement for warehousing and holding cotton may be set on foot.

Suits Withdrawn.

The North Carolina Corporation Commission today filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission application for the withdrawal of three suits that were instituted before the commission for the reduction of interstate freight rates before the last Legislature started its movement that brought about the general compromise settlement of the interstate freight rate matters. The suits asked to be dismissed involved phases of the interstate rate situation that have since been adjusted in the general compromise settlement and the rates that the commission sought to procure are now in operation under the general interstate freight rate settlement.

Jail Delivery in Pender.

Nearly all the prisoners that it was desired to have tried at a special criminal term of Superior court ordered by Governor Craig for Pender county, Judge O. H. Allen presiding, October 5th, having escaped in a big jail delivery, there came this morning from the Pender county authorities a request for order for the special term to be revoked. This was done by the Governor.

To be Electrocuted Friday.

Unless Governor Craig grants some sort of executive clemency, Harvey Ganaway, colored, must pay the death penalty in the electric chair at the State's prison on Friday of this week for the murder of his wife in Winston-Salem. And it is not at all likely that the Governor will interfere with the execution of the death sentence. The evidence is that Ganaway and his wife had parted and that he was trying to get their son and her clothes that he claimed. There was evidence that he declared his purpose to kill the woman at 8 o'clock and did kill her by 11:30 of the same night.

Taken to Penitentiary.

Sheriff R. B. Hyatt, of Edgecombe county, has just committed to the penitentiary Fletcher Winstead and Will Holland, two negro youths to serve terms of respectively 15 and five years for criminal assault on Miss Daughtridge in Edgecombe some months ago.

Judge Whedbee, in the Superior court, has ordered a receiver's sale of the People's Laundry plant here on November 15. The plant has been operated by a receiver for several months now, but has not panned out to the satisfaction of the secured creditors who pressed for the order for final sale and settlement.

MOUNT OLIVE PREPARES TO TAKE CARE OF COTTON.

Has Organized Company With Ample Capital to Build Warehouses.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Sept. 22.—As a sequel to the action taken by the chamber of commerce here at a called meeting on the night of September 14th, at which time the question of providing warehouse facilities to enable the farmers of the surrounding territory to store and hold their cotton until business conditions become normal, was quite fully discussed, followed by the appointment of a ways and means committee and an organization committee, these committees have completed their duties, and at a second meeting held in the chamber of commerce room the organization of the Mount Olive Cotton Storage Company was perfected, with an authorized capital of $25,000, $1,000 paid in.

A board of directors was then appointed, consisting of the following: Messrs. J. E. Kelly, M. T. Breazelle, cashier of the Bank of Mount Olive; H. M. Cox, cashier of the Citizens' Bank; L. A. Byrd and B. F. Martin.

The following officers were then elected: J. E. Kelly, president; M. T. Breazeale, vice president and treasurer; H. M. Cox, secretary.

The erection of a warehouse will be begun at once, the construction of others to follow as needed.

Both of the meetings above referred to were attended by practically all of the city's leading business men and quite a number of the surrounding territory's most representative farmers, all sincere in their desire and efforts to alleviate in the best possible manner the present situation.

It is also said that the ways and means committee has met with most encouraging success in their efforts to raise the necessary funds with which to construct the required buildings. According to present plans, each warehouse will cost about $600.

ONLY FOUR DAYS MORE.

In which to take advantage of uncalled for made-to-measure suits at the one price of $10. Remember, these are $18.00 to $25.00 values and this is a rare opportunity. Store open at 8 A. M. I. Shrier, The Reliable Tailor and Men's Furnisher, N. E. Corner Front and Princess streets.—advertisement.

BUY A BALE IN WHITEVILLE

Mr. R. C. Carson Joins Movement—The Mayor After Speeders—Electric Lights for the Town.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, Sept. 22.—The first bale of cotton to bring 10 cents per pound was sold here Saturday, the buyer being a private citizen, who had adopted the "Buy-a-Bale" slogan. Mr. R. C. Carson, who spends his winters in Whiteville, paid Mr. J. T. Bradshaw $61.60 for one bale of cotton, including the seed, which were sold for 25 cents per bushel.

Mayor Tucker is showing a determination right now to put an end to speeding and reckless driving in Whiteville. Sunday morning a party of motorists passed through town, and just as they were passing the Baptist church, where Mr. Tucker was attending Sunday school, he saw them. Immediately after church service he issued a warrant and placed it in the hands of Sheriff Best, who located the speeders and brought them before His Honor. They submitted to the charge, and a fine of $20 and costs was in order, which was paid. Saturday night W. S. Mintz, who drives a livery car here, happened to take what the mayor thought was too many chances to safely run a machine and he was at first fined $5 and costs. Unwilling to let well enough alone, he told His Honor that he "didn't think he ought to pay this," whereupon the fine was increased from $5 to $25, and Mintz took an appeal to the Superior Court.

A real snake story comes from the Smyrna section of the county, where it is stated two negroes, Lester Williams and Will Smith, had a terrific battle with a monster rattler on the farm of James Hooks, and immediately after killing the first rattler they had another fight with one on the farm of J. M. Ludlum. Each of the snakes carried sixteen rattles and a button, and they are being exhibited in the neighborhood by the negroes.

There is a probability that Whiteville will have a lighting plant which will furnish illumination for the whole town, if the plans of the Whiteville Commercial Club come to a successful conclusion, this body at present being at work getting facts and figures which are to be presented to J. A. Newsome, of Jacksonville, Fla., who has been here for some time with a view to establishing such a plant here. At the present time part of the city is supplied fro ma private pinat of the Whiteville Lumber Company, but this plant is not fitted up right to supply the whole town.

Soon after the organization of the Commercial Club here the matter was brought up and a committee was appointed to get data on the establishment of a plant to supply the entire town. Then Mr. Newsome came upon the scene and since his advent here there has been considerable work done. At the present time, Ernest M. Brown, who is working in behalf of the Club, is making a canvass of the town to find out how much power will be consumed, both for lighting and power purposes, and as soon as these figures are compiled, Mr. Newsome will do something definite in the matter of putting a plant in. The Commercial Club wants light and water works in the town and in case an arrangement is not made with Mr. Newsome they propose to interest others.

A real farce was aired in the Recorder's Court here yesterday, when five negro women were haled to court, charged with retailing and gambling. They were from Bolton and although it was indictment and counter indictment, there were no denials except in one case, where one of the defendants was represented by counsel, but after the evidence her attorney rested his case without argument. Prayer for judgment in all cases against them was continued until Friday, when another session will be held.

TOOK UNPLEASANT RIDE IN HIS OWN WHEELBARROW

Propelled by Railroad Engine—Kinston Negro's Experience.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 20.—To take a ride in his own wheelbarrow with a locomotive as the motive power, was an experience which came to Ed McCarter without the seeking recently. McCarter, a negro employed by the Imperial Tobacco Company, was trundling the barrow across the Norfolk Southern Railroad yard within 200 feet of the passenger station, and misunderstood the frantic signals of a flagman who tried to wave him back as an incoming train approached. The train, a passenger from Goldsboro, struck McCarter in the back, knocking him across the wheelbarrow. Providence seemingly took an interest in the situation, for when the black realized what was happening he was lying on the barrow, which was moving at a speed faster than its creaking wheel had ever before known, his feet against the engine's fender and the wheelbarrow handles held fast in the cowcatcher. The wheelbarrow rolled nicely, on a level keel. People at the station covered their eyes, and the engineer was about to sweat. When the train was brought to a stop McCarter got out of the wheelbarrow and found that the end of a finger was bleeding and that he had a pain in his back from contact with the engine.

SOME FINE HOGS.

While waiting for a train at Alma a few days ago the writer went over to Mr. C. J. Cottingham's to see his fine hogs, of which we had heard. And what we saw was well worth seeing. He must have fifty or more, all fine blooded stock, mostly Berkshire. He keeps four brood sows, and makes money raising hogs. He killed last year about 3,000 pounds of pork and will kill as much this year. We also saw some other fine hogs at Alma belonging to Mr. W. J. Trammell. He has several that look as though they might make three or four hundred pounds a piece when killing time comes.—Rowland Sun.

KILLED BY SWINGING CRANE

Claude Burrell, of Richmond, Loses His Life on A. C. L. Work Near Fayetteville.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 22.—Claude Burrell, of Richmond, Va., a laborer employed on double tracking work on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, was killed by a swinging crane late this afternoon while working on the construction of a trestle four miles north of Fayetteville.

The arm of the crane struck him in the breast. The injured man was placed on a hand car and hurried towards Fayetteville, but died before reaching the city. His remains were taken to an undertaking establishment, whence they will be shipped to Richmond.

Burrell was a married man and leaves a wife and four children in Richmond. He was 29 years old.

Sow Crimson Clover and Save Fertilizer Bills

The indications are that prices of fertilizer the coming season will be much higher than usual, owing to the fact that the supply of fertilizer materials will be largely cut off on account of the European war. This should cause farmers everywhere to put land in crops that will save fertilizer bills. Nothing will do this better than Crimson Clover. It is unquestionably one of the best soil-improvers that can be put in, and wherever it is grown, it gives largely increased crops of corn, cotton and tobacco.

We have secured more liberal supplies of Crimson Clover than was expected and will be able to sell at much more reasonable prices than was anticipated.

WOOD'S CROP SPECIAL gives full and interesting information about the fertilizing value of Crimson Clover; also about other seeds for Fall sowing. Write for Crop Special and prices of any seeds required.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.

"Mother's Friend" is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant motherhood requires.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 412 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

QUERY SELECTED FOR STATE-WIDE DEBATE

By All North Carolina Secondary and High Schools

Resolved, That United States Should Adopt Policy of Subsidizing Merchant Marine Engaged in Foreign Trade.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 22.—The State Wide High School Debating Union will debate the query. "Resolved, That the United States should adopt the policy of subsidizing its merchant marine engaged in the foreign trade." This question was selected because of its prominence in the minds of the American people today and because there is such a large amount of material in the Library to aid the young debators.

Last year the state-wide contest was participated in by 150 schools and 600 student-debators. It is expected that the enrollment of schools will be larger this year than either of the two previous years of the union's existence.

The final contest at Chapel Hill last spring was one of the most spectacular features of the year's work. There were close to a thousand visitors on the Hill at the time.

Every secondary and high school in the State is eligible to become a member of the union and participate in the debate. The method of procedure will be the same as that for the past two years. Every school that enrolls will be grouped with two other for a triangular debate, each school putting out two teams, one on the affirmative and one on the negative. Every school which wins both sides of its triangular debates will send both teams to Chapel Hill to contest for the state championship and the Aycock Memorial Cup. The preliminary debates wil be held the latter part of March and the final contest at Chapel Hill early in April. Pleasant Garden won the final two years ago, and Winston-Salem last year. On the losing team on the final was a girl.

E. R. Rankin, of Gastonia, secretary of the union has charge of all the active work of organization. Besides being editor of the well edited and popular Alumni Review he is secretary of the alumni.

The Dialectic and Philanthropic, (or, a sthey are better known, the Di and Phi.) Literary societies, which have general charge of the High School Debating Union, had their fall initiations Saturday night. The two together took in a total of about 140 men. These two societies are the oldest college literary societies in America, both being founded in 1796.

Prof. O. P. Rhyne, of the German department, returned last Saturday from Germany where he was caught in the whirlpool of war. He returned from the Netherlands to New York by steerage. He reports a terrible trip. Mr. Tom Linn, of Salyisbury, a prominent member of the student body, is also reported as having returned from Europe to New York the past week.

PRESIDENT FEW DELIVERS OPENING ADDRESS AT TRINITY.

Annual Event in Life of College and City of Durham.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 21.—Dr. W. P. Few's opening address to the students of Trinity College was delivered Sunday evening in Craven Memorial Hall. The large college auditorium was filled almost to overcrowding. The attendance of the students, patrons and friends of the institution exceeded all past records. All the city churches were called in in order that the entire college community and city people might be present at the opening exercises.

A brief but splendid musical programme was provided for the evening, and many of the best musicians in the city took part in this part of the programme.

The address was, of course, an address to Trinity men at the opening of a new collegiate year. Dr. Few stated that in order for any college to be of real lasting worth that it must de[illegible] with conceptions of education that have eternal values. Much is now being said about colleges and their values and the American college needs to be carefully considered. One classification of all colleges may be stated briefly as being (1) what they know; (2) what they do; (3) what they are. That all colleges, he said, are alike in providing instructions to youth for public service and individual service, but do they all first train scholars to make men, or is their first educational aim purely utilitarian and intellectual? There are numerous colleges (1) by individuals; (2) taxation; (3) church, all of which aspire to intellectualism and the training of youth into the duties and services of citizenship, but unless an institution give light it is not what it ought to be, and it may be incompetent, inadequate and even injurious. Many institutions which seek to train for immediate practical service enjoy great popularity and are doubtless of intrinsic good, but yet they are not to be considered as of first importance. Physical well-being is a good thing, and a very desirable thing, but there is a great danger in America today towards materialism, and a purely utilitarian conception of life. What we need in all this is to find out and choose the things really worth seeking for and possessing. We need skill and power, but, above all, life. The German Empire is a good example of this kind of education, and who does not shudder as he thinks of the present plight of that people?

But of most importance of all colleges is the college of the church, the child of religion, organically and fundamentally devoted to the kingdom of God and good upon which individual as well as national independence stands. Any type of college, as a man, is to be judged by what he sets first as his ideals and endeavors. Welfare of human kind seeks the great truth which makes us free in our ideals, and powers, and life, and makes a man not only fitted to think and work, but to be at home anywhere, on any planet; by securing and rectifying for it a soil for human character. We need men who can be trusted, and who have inward mothers who guide them in the truth. We are confronted with this defect in America today. There is no way to avoid it, but we must all recognize it, for it is indeed simply a national peril. It is the only experiment in history of its kind, for never before has the morals of youth been neglected to [illegible] great an extent.

OFFICIALS NOT DISTURBED

Over Statement of State Board of Charities That Convict Law is Violated in Lenoir.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 22.—Lenoir county officials do not confess to being much disturbed over a recent letter from the State Board of Charities, stating that they are violating the law by not allowing prisoners five days off of each month for good behavior in accordance with a 1915 law. The officials, it is believed, are willing to comply with the law without hesitation, but are perplexed to find what constitutes good behavior in the Lenoir county camp, where there are now around 70 blacks, mostly of a class of vagrants who have troubled the local authorities by congregating in the negro section of Kinston and are repeatedly recommitted because of their incorrigibleness.

The law of might enforces good conduct in such a camp, it is said, and few of the cvonvicts have shown the disposition to behave well of their own accord. The hebavior of 10 men who a year ago mutinied, assaulted their guards and escaped is only what would happen every day if sufficient precautions were not taken, officials say.

WORKING ON COLLEGE FOR WOMEN AT TRINITY

Such an Institution No Longer a Mere Dream.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 21.—A co-ordinate college for women at Trinity College is no longer a mere dream, but active work is being done at present with the establishment of such a college in view. An executive committee of the board of trustees has been appointed to attend to the matter, and an exectuitve secretary has been secured to carry forward the propagation of the plan.

At its recent meeting in the spring, the Board of trustees gave its executive committee outhority to "proceed in the effort to build and organize a con-ordinate college for woment at trinity." In order to carry forward this work effectively, the Executive Committee was authorized to create a "committee on organization," to consist of the present of the college, a member of the board of trustees, a member of the faculty, a representative of the alumnae, and an executive secretary.

The purpose of this committee was to try to secure funds and to arrange other preliminaries looking to the organization of the woman's college at Trinity. The committee was given one year in which to secure necessary funds for the purpose. If, "at the end of one year there is in hand sufficient funds for this undertaking," the committee is authorized to continue during a second year the organization and building of the new institution.

The committee on organization was very fortunate in securing as the executive secretary of the committee, Miss Laura Drake Gill, who will begin work actively for the college about September 20. Miss Gill was for several years Dean of Barnard College, the Co-ordinate College for Women at Columbia University, in New York. She is generally regarded in the enirt country as the foremost woman in America in this kind of work.

The committee on organization which was appointed to carry forward this work consists of the following: President W. P. Few, J. H. Southgate, from the trustees, Professor R. L. Flowers, from the Trinity faculty, Miss Gill as executive secretary, and Mrs. Bivins, from the alumnae. Mrs. Bivins was active in the work of the alumnae association when the idea of the coordinate college was first agiated.

SPOT OFFERINGS HEAVIER

According to Reports from Eastern Cotton Belt—Prices a Shade Easier Yesterday.

New York, Sept. 22.—Dealers in spot cotton here reported that offerings from the Eastern belt were a little heavier and that in some instances prices were a shade easier today. It was understood that something over 2,000 bales of the old straddle interest would be liquidated as a result of today's ballot.

Local traders find some satisfaction in the gradual reduction in the local stock of spot cotton, which has lost about 10,000 bales since the first of the month. Otherwise there was no apparent change in the situation locally, but the presence here of a representative of the Department of Agriculture in conference with members of the exchange was said to be with the object of deciding upon rules to be used by the department in administering the new cotton features law. Announcements are expected in that connection tomorrow.

WHEAT MARKET DECLINES

Under Selling Pressure Caused by Increasing Domestic Supplies and Lull in Export Trade.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Increasing domestic supplies and the fact that a lull seemed to have occurred in the export trade put the wheat market today under a good deal of selling pressure. The close was 2⅛ to 3c. under last night.

Corn showed a net loss of ⅝ to 1⅛c. and oats of ½ to ⅝ to ¾c.

In provisions, the outcome varied from unchanged figures to a decline of 25c.

SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT

Shown in Domestic Financial Conditions—Features Yesterday in Wall Street Circles.

New York, Sept. 22.—Closing of the New York City $100,000,000 loan with a large over-subscription, increased firmness in foreign exchange, a slight stiffening of money rates and a drastic cut in the dividend of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., were the chief features today of financial interest. In respect to fundamental conditions the domestic situation continued to show signs of improvement.

Exchange on London rose to 497 1-2 for cables and 496 1-2 for sight drafts.

The harder tendency of money was ascribed to withdrawal from the local field of some interior and Canadian banks which, it was believed, were using their money at home. Some three day call loans, as they are known, were made at 7 1-2 per cent.

Reduction of the Anaconda Copper quarterly dividend from 75 to 25 cents excited some speculation regarding the action of the amalgamated copper directors a month hence, inasmuch as Anaconda is controlled by Amalgamated through stock owners.

Bankers said that recent heavy marketings of Canadian wheat were exercising a beneficial effect on the exchange situation and large shipments of cotton from Southern ports to Liverpool were, it was said, in contemplation. In point of fact, the outlook for that staple was better than in some days.

PETERSBURG PEANUT MARKET.

(Reported by Rodgers, Plummer & Co., Inc.)

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 21.—Spanish—Farmers' Spanish, quiet, 85c per bushel.

Virginias—Steady. Fancy Jumbo, 4c. per lb. Fancy Hand-Picked, 3⅛c to 3¾c. per lb. Extra Prime, 3⅛c. to 3⅜c. per lb. Prime, 3¼c. to 3½c. per lb. Machine Picked, 3¼c. to 3½c. per lb.

"VARDELL COLLEGE" IS NEW NAME PROPOSED

For Southern Presbyterian College, Red Springs.

New $20,000 Graded School Building—New Railroad Talk Revived—Cotton Being Stored, None Sold.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Red Springs, N. C., Sept 21.—In spite of depressing conditions incident to the cotton market, the Southern Presbyterian College has started one of the most promising years of its history. This is the institution concerning the changing of whose name the public press has had a great deal to say during the past few months. Dr. James McDonald, of Toronto, Canada, in an address at Fayetteville this summer, urged that the institution be named The Flora MacDonald College, to commemorate the valiant career of Miss Flora MacDonald of Troy fame, in revolutionary times. Dr. MacDonald promised that if the college's name were so changed, he personally, would contribute $10,000 toward an hundred thousand dollar endowment fund for the college.

His proposition met with considerable popular approval in this and other counties of this Presbytery, though there were and still are some who demur at the proposition. It is pointed out by these that the college as present named has been much advertised and has won its chief claim to recognition as a standard colege; that alumni centiment would be opposed to any change of name; that even if the name should be changed the proposed name is long and cumbersome and it would be much simpler and would serve the same ends to all it "The MacDonald College."

There are others who, though not decrying in the least the heroic fame of the illustrious Flora, yet aver that if the name is to be changed the new name should commemorate some one more closely identified with human progress as typified by enducational growth and advancement in general and the Southern Presbyterian College in particular. And these enthusiasts, and their name is legion in this section, point to the record of the college's progress under the administration of Dr. C. G. Vardell, the present president, who has served in this capacity for upwards of twenty years. Under his able management and wise guidance the institution has developed and grown from a mere academy of local utility to a standard college of interstate reputation and usefulness. What could be more fitting, say these logicians, what could be more symbolic of the high purpose and the great acheivements of the college; what name would better typify all that it has accomplished and that it stands for and hopes to accomplish than "Vardell College?" The idea was first advanced in an anonymous card in the local paper. Since then the idea has taken root and has met with popular approval here.

New Graded School Building.

Even the passing stranger must notice that Red Springs has taken on a new lease of life. This is evidenced by the get-together-spirit that pervaded the community during the past few months and culminated in the erection of a handsone $20,000 graded school building. Heretofore the town was torn by factionalism and strife attended by petty jealousies and bitterness which not only prevented any show of progress in the town, but even reflected detrimentally in business circles. And though the old "Academy" has for years been an eyesore and a disgrace to the community, yet nothing was done to remedy it. Now there is an atitude of harmony and co-operation among our citizens that has not existed for many years.

"New Railroad" Talk Revived.

Though there is no abatement of the European war and its disastrous effects, there has recently been revived in this community the talk which was so prevalent last summer of a new railway project in this territory. Possibly the cause of this discussion is the alleged lack of accommodation that characterizes the operation of the one railroad. If one tries to get to Charlotte via Maxton, he is most likely to miss connection at Maxton with the S. A. L. by the margin of just a few minutes. This true of the afternoon and the morning trains. Much complaint has been made about this disagreeable state of affairs. The proposed new road would run from Southern Pines via Raeford, Antioch, Red Springs and Lumberton [illegible] Wilmington. Though, so far, there has been nothing but talk, yet a certain amount of that commodity must perfore accompany and precede all new enterprises of this nature, and our people are certainly doing their part in talking the matter up.

Storing, Not Selling Cotton.

While merchants here have offered to allow eight cents on account yet there is very little cotton being sold here. There is a disposition among planters and tenants alike to hold their cotton. A great deal is being delivered to the local warehouse for storage and wil be held indefinitely, pending a clearing up of the cotton situation. On account of the immense crop this year few believe that the price would exced ten cents even under normal conditions, yt our peolle have shown a determination to held the crop and risk any chances of depressing prices later. It is safe to say that practically al the crop of this entire section will be stored.

MRS. FLAGLER RECOVERS HER $50,000 PENDANT.

Private Detectives Return Jewel But Make No Explanation.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, of New York, has recovered the $50,000 black pearl and diamond pendant which she lost by accident or had stolen from her at a local hotel where she is a guest.

Private detectives returned the jewel to Mrs. Flagler, but the officers and the hotel management refused to say where the pendant was located.

No arrests were made.

New York, Sept. 22.—Reappraisal of the estate of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World and the St. Louis Post Dispatch at the time of his death, made public late today, fixes the gross value of the estate at $20,355,985 and the net value at $18,637,545.

BOTH STATES CLAIM SAME TIMBER LAND

Bickett Files Brief With U. S. Supreme Court.

In Suit for Possession of Land Claimed By Tennessee Along Boundary Line—Trail of Blazed Trees as Evidence.

Washington, Sept. 22.—A trail of blazed hemlocks, hickories and oaks, declared to have been made nearly a century ago, was cited today by the State of North Carolina to prove to the Supreme Court of the United States its claim to a large section of disputed timber land along the Tennessee line. The State's claim was set forth in a brief filed by Attorney General Thomas W. Bickett. The case will be argued orally in October.

When North Carolina ceded the territory now embraced in Tennessee to the United States in 1790, a commission was authorized to mark the boundary line. This it did in 1821, but a disagreement recently arose as to the line in the so-called Slick Rock basin and the Telico basin.

Attorney General Bickett, in his brief, asserts that S. S. Gannott, of the United States Geological survey, and A. D. Burns, of Knoxville, Tenn., recently traced the old boundary laid by the surveyors by "three hacks over a blaze on each fore and aft tree and with three hacks on each side line tree." The line thus established, he says, substantiates North Carolina's claim to the disputed timber land.

NO COTTON SHOULD BE PLANTED IN 1915.

Opinion of Mississippi Division Southern Cotton Association.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 22.—No cotton at all should be planted in 1915 in the opinion of the majority of the members of the Mississippi division of the Southern Cotton Association in convention here today. The 50 delegates to the general cotton convention to be held in New Orleans September 29 will be instructed to place that recommendation before the convention.

The planters took this stand because they said they believed cotton left over from last year and the surplus expected this year, would supply the world for more than a year. To cease planting for a year also would be the best method of stamping out the boll weevil and other cotton pests. They will ask the New Orleans convention to urge every governor to call a special session of the state legislatures to pass laws prohibiting planting in 1915.

The delegates also were instructed to ask the convention to adopt a uniform plan to hold 25 per cent of this year's crop from the market.

QUAKER OATS PLAN.

Buying Bale of Cotton and Using Bags in Place of Jute.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Sept. 22.—Good news came here in a letter received from the Quaker Oats Company to the Boykin Grocery Company. In this letter the manager of the company, after expressing sympathy for the Southern people in the present unfavorable trade conditions, said that instructions had been given to "all Southern sales offices, to all the traveling salesmen and brokers and other sales representatives of the company to buy each one bale of cotton at 10 cents a pound for the company's account." Further the same company has given an order for one million cotton bags for use in place of jute bags ,hoping in this way to aid in stimulating the domestic demand for cotton just at this time. It was stated by a member of the firm of the Boykin Grocery Company that the order to buy cotton as given by the Quaker Oats Co., would run to somewhere near 1,000 bales.

REVENUE CUTTER TAHOMA HAS BEEN ABANDONED

Struck a Reef in the Aleutian Islands Sunday.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 22.—The United States revenue cutter Tahoma, which struck a reef Sunday 90 miles west of Kiska island, in the Aleutian group, has been abandoned, according to a cable dispatch reecived today from Seward, Alaska. The steamship Mariposa, now at Seward, pickeed up a wireless message to this effect.

The Tahoma's crew probably has been taken off by the Japaneese liner Tacoma Maru.

Valdez, Alaska, Sept. 22.—The revenue cutter Tahoma, wrecked near Kiska island, had picked up the crew of a steamship wrecked on Somichi Island, in the Aleutians.

The name of the wrecked steamer is not known here.

NO FINAL AGREEMENT ON CLAYTON ANTI-TRUST BILL.

Conferees Will Resume Negotiations Today—"Tying Contracts."

Washington, Sept. 22.—Conferees on the Clayton anti-trust bill failed again today to reach a final agreement and will resume negotiations tomorrow. The clash still centers on the section relating to "tying" contracts, reconsideration having been demanded by House members of the action of the conference in amending it.

Senator Overman, who is chairman of a special lobby committee and also a member of the conference committee, said today suggestions had been made of "insidious" lobbying against the anti-trust legislation and intimated there might be an investigation later.

SAMPSON SUPERIOR COURT.

Judge Frank Daniels Will Preside Over Term Just Convened.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clinton, N. C., Sept. 21.—This morning at 10 o'clock the September term (for the trial of civil cases only) of Sampson superior court, convened, with His Honor, Frank Daniels, judge presiding. This is the second term which Judge Daniels has held in Sampson this year. His acquaintance in Clinton and Sampson is very large, and he is held in the highest esteem by the bar and people at large of this county. His Honor will hold the October term for this county, which is for the trial of both criminal and civil cases.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, by resolution duly adopted on the 5th day of August, A. D. 1914, and amended August 22nd, called and ordered to be held in the City of Wilmington, N. C., on Wednesday, the 7th day of October, A. D. 1914, a Special Election for the purpose of anthorizing or approving the ordinance passed by the said City Council on the 29th day of July, A. D. 1914, granting to the Wilmington-Carolina Beach Railway Company a franchise, permission and authority to construct, maintain and operate a Street Railway with single or double tracks, turn-outs, curves, switches, spur tracks, receipt and delivery tracks, etc., for the transportation and carriage of passengers and freight, upon, along, over, under and across the streets named in said Ordinance, and to construct, erect and maintain poles and wires, underground conduits and other structures necessary for the conduct of electric current and power for the use of said cars upon such tracks.

The streets or portions of the streets over which the said franchise is asked are fully set forth and described in the Ordinance passed by the said Council which will be published as required by law in full once in each of the daily newspapers published in the City of Wilmington not more than twenty days and not less than five days before the day of said election, by the City Clerk and Treasurer of the said City.

Said election will be held in the City of Wilmington on Wednesday, the seventh day of October, A. D. 1914, and the following named polling places, Registrars and Judges of Election have been named and designated for the holding and conducting said election, to-wit:

First Ward, First Precinct: Polling Place—Kerr's store; Registrar, Willie Kerr: Judges, L. F. Harper and J. B. Elkin.

First Ward, Second Precinct: Polling Place — Cor. Fourth and Campbell streets; Registrar, W. H. Howe; Judges, J. W. Blomme and J. G. Ittner.

Second Ward; Polling Place—Court House; Registrar, W. W. Hodges; Judges, C. W. Lassiter and Frank Shepard.

Third Ward; Polling Place—Cor. 8th and Princess streets; Registrar, A. G. Hankins; Judges, Walter Penny and S. E. Wood.

Fourth Ward: Polling Place—No. 110 Dock street; Registrar, W. A. Spooner; Judges, F. W. Pfeiffer and Jos. A. Price.

Fifth Ward, First Precinct: Polling Place — Cor. 5th and Castle streets; Registrar, R. Henry Orrell; Judges, E. Childs and Wallace Sellers.

Fifth Ward, Second Precinct: Polling Place—6th and Castle streets; Registrar, J. H. Taylor, Jr.; Judges, W. H. Biddle and T. G. Landen.

The polls will be opened on the day of election at 8 o'clock A. M., and remain open until sun set of said day.

Each Registrar will, between the hours of 9 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M., each day (Sunday excepted) for seven days preceding the day for closing the registration books, keep open the registration books for the registration of any new electors residing in the precinct entitled to register, or whose names do not appear on the revised list and said books will be open until 9 o'clock P. M., on each Saturday during the registration period and shall close for registration on the second Saturday before said election. No registration will be allowed on election day, except to such persons as shall give satisfatcory evidence to the registrar and judges of election that he has become of the age of twenty-one years, or otherwise has become qualified to register and vote since the registration books closed for registration.

On the second Saturday before the election the registration books will be kept open at the polling places in the voting precincts; also for the inspection of the electors of the precinct and to enable challenges to be made on the right of any person to vote in said election whose name appears thereon, and if any person is objected to notice will be given him and a hearing granted as provided by law.

The Council has appointed the Registrars and Judges of said election and caused them to be notified of their appointment and required them to take the oath required by law, and named polling places and arrnaged them, and will cause to be furnished the necessary books and arrange for the ballots, and will fill all vacancies occurring in Registrars and Judges as required of them, and will receive the returns from said election, as required by law, and will endeavor to have the election conducted in strict conformity with the law, and will endeavor to see to it that the election officers perform their duties in all matters.

If a majority of the electors voting in said election shall vote in favor of said ordinance, the said ordinance passed by the Council shall thereupon become a valid and binding ordinance of the city of Wilmington.

By order of the City Council.

THOS. D. MEARES,
City Clerk and Treasurer of the City of Wilmington.

PLAIN TALK No. 1
If the average man in business fully realized the cash value of business environment he would consider the location of his business home and its appearance above all else. A patient enters a doctor's office; a client waits in a lawyer's office; a customer calls at a business office. These three visitors are either impressed favorably or unfavorably with the surroundings. A modern, sanitary and well kept office in the doctor's quarters produces faith and confidence in the mind of the patient. The lawyer's client absorbs the prosperous and legal appearing surroundings, and he does not hesitate to place his case with the lawyer. The business office looks progressive, modern, well kept, and he mentally jots down that the goods turned out by this firm must be in similar keeping. The three visitors bring business and place business, because they believe in the ability of the owners of these offices to produce Results. Appearance is everything. Give some attention to it. If you will inspect some of the offices of the new Murchison Building you will see how you can improve the physical appearance of your business home at the same price you are now paying. Ask the Renting Agent.
